

Septic System Regulations Designed For Protection

New regulations governing the installation of septic tank systems in Andover become official today with formal publication of the new regulations in today's TOWNSMAN:

The new rules and regulations have been the subject of review and work by the Andover Board of Health, with the assistance of consultants for the past year and a half.

Public Health Director Neal McDowell, noting that the regulations become official and enforceable with publication today, said with sufficient personnel to enforce the laws, the town and new property purchasers in Andover should be adequately protected.

The board of health has held two public hearings on the new laws and has had little response despite public notices and letters to contractors concerning the new policies.

In some instances, the new laws supercede regulations contained in the state building code.

Such stipulation is necessary, the health board feels, in order to insure against the town being faced with problems through improper installation of septic systems, particularly by contractors who may not be from this area.

Director McDowell noted that over the past two to three years his department has made some contractors' licenses invalid due to improper installations and failure to make installations in accordance with plans placed on file with the board of health.

"When a person buys a new home in Andover at prices ranging from $65,000 to $100,000 or better, then finds an inadequate septic system, his recourse generally is to town hall.

"With these new regulations, hopefully, the new Andover resident will not have to go for an additional expense of upwards of $2,500 for system alteration or entire new installation," McDowell said.

As recently as within the past month some contractors in Andover have had their licenses to install such systems in Andover ruled invalid due to faulty work, or not following the plans filed with the board for sanitary systems.

Main Street Block Is Sold

Announcement of new ownership of a major downtown business block was made this week, with the purchase of the ARCO Building by Donald I. Richmond, Andover real estate developer.

Richmond purchased the property from William A. Long, formerly of Andover, now of Wolfeboro, N.H. Purchase price was $177,500.

The new owner told the TOWNSMAN this week that he has plans for the building, but nothing immediate.

Richmond said he was delighted at the opportunity to take over the two story business block, a mainstay of Andover's downtown area for over a half century.

Involved in real estate development for many years, Richmond said he saw some definite potential for growth in the downtown area. He said the opportunity to purchase the block was a sort of realization of a hoped for goal.

He had looked at the property from time to time with the thought of sometime making the acquisition, but felt that it may not ever become a reality until recently.

Present tenants of the building will remain, he said. There are plans for development and improvement, but nothing immediate he said.

The building was constructed by Andover Realty Company, over 50 years ago and the new owner describes it as "an excellent building in top condition."

It originally encompassed the entire block including the Andover Press building on the corner of Main and Chestnut streets.

Present occupants include The Dame Shop, Lorraine Roy, Elander and Swanton and the shoe store affiliated with Elander's, on the street level, and Doug Howe real estate and insurance company, Coiffures by M.F. and James J. Conroy, D.M.D. on the second floor.

Richmond has been involved in the real estate and property management business for several years and has a small subdivision in the Shawsheen

Rough Sailing Monday

Andover sailors may face rough waters Monday night as the selectmen discuss the possibility of using Haggetts pond for recreational use.

Among the agenda items facing the board when it meets in the conference room on the second floor of town hall is the possibility of allowing canoeing and small sail boats on the pond.

While there are indications that Selectmen Alan F. French and George E. Heseltine are in favor of the pond for recreational use, based on statements in past meetings, strong opposition to the proposal can be expected from Public Works Director Robert E. McQuade.

When such a proposal was made over a year ago, and petitions begun for allowing the pond to be used by small sail boats, McQuade offered opposition to recreational use of the pond for such purpose.

Among the major factors to be considered for not allowing such permission is the health factor and possible pollution effects on Haggetts which could result from permitting boating on a widespread scale.

Several items face the board at its regularly scheduled session, including the rehearing on the application for a new package goods store license.

The selectmen, acting as the licensing commission, had awarded the license to Joseph Hoffman for a store in the Shawsheen Plaza. Philip G. Piz-

To Present Charter Saturday To Enter Bates

The newly-formed Exchange Club of Andover will receive the charter from The National Exchange Club on Aug. 16, it was announced by Lee Wells, executive secretary at the Toledo, Ohio national headquarters.

The charter will be presented during a semi-formal meeting at 7 p.m. at the Lanam Club. The ceremonies will be followed by a dance. Members of other Exchange Clubs in the area and their wives have been invited to attend. Stephen W. Kearns is publicity chairman.

Gilbert A. Barrett, Jr., president of the new Exchange Club, will receive the charter from Gorham W. Humphrey, immediate past district president. District President Albert L. Labrie will present Club Sponsorship Awards to the sponsoring Exchange Club of Lawrence, and to committeemen Thomas P. Torrissi and Lawrence F. Silva.

Other officers are: Michael J. Lebreck, vice president; George W. Connors, Jr., secretary; Charles A. McKew, Jr., treasurer; and directors Thomas P. Torrissi, Norman P. Merrill, James F. Trombly, George F. Lannan, Jr., George R. Harris and Stephen W. Kearns.

Exchange is an entirely American service organization. Its hundreds of community clubs in the United States and Puerto Rico sponsor the Freedom Shrine Program, National Crime Prevention Week (February), "One Nation Under God" Month (November), and a variety of youth, citizenship and community service programs.

Jason Feinman, son of Mrs. Dorothy Feinman of Andover, will enter Bates College as a member of the freshman class.

A June graduate of Pingree School, he was a member of the soccer and baseball teams, the math team, and was a reported for the school newspaper. He was also co-editor of the school year-book.

Conservatory Concert To Aid ABC Program

The New England Conservatory Youth Ragtime Ensemble with Gunther Schuller conducting, will perform in Andover on Friday evening, Nov. 7, at 8:30 for the benefit of Andover ABC (A Better Chance). The Pop-style concert will be held in the Great Hall of Sheraton Rolling Green.

Mr. Schuller, President of the Conservatory since 1967 is a noted French horn player, a composer, writer and teacher as well as a conductor.

The evening's program will feature America's first great musical art form: classical ragtime. Forgotten for 60 years, the work of Scott Joplin, Louis Chauvin, James Scott, Artie Mathews and others were rediscovered in the mid-nineteen-sixties by a new generation of serious musicians and listeners. Widespread popularity occurred with the release of the movie, "The Sting" and Schuller's Conservatory Ragtime Ensemble became the most recognizable expression of this revival.

Tickets for the benefit will be sold by tables of ten with interested people and businesses reserving tables and selling tickets to friends and associates. Many hostesses are already planning pre-concert dinner parties to complement an exciting evening. Table costs will be $80, $100 and $200 with the $20 tickets giving you a front-of-the-hall seat and admission to a limited after-concert party with Mr. Schuller and the Ensemble. Reservations are now available thru Robert Henderson at Andover Savings Bank or Doug Mitchell, ABC Fund Raising Chairman. Co-sponsors of the evening are the Gillette Company and Sheraton Rolling Green.

It seems whimsically appropriate that the black composers of the 1890's nurtured in an era of at least professional equality, be called upon to help their young counterparts in Andover's ABC Program.

Adjusted Unemployed Rate Down

The Massachusetts unemployment rate for the month of June, seasonally adjusted, dropped to 12.3 percent from the May level of 12.8 percent, according to John D. Crosier, Director of the Division of Employment Security. This drop was the result of statistical procedures used in the seasonal adjustment process, however, and does not reflect any major changes in the State's economy.

Director Crosier noted that a similar sizeable decline occurred in national unemployment during June when the rate dropped to 8.6 percent from 9.2 percent in May.

Changes in unemployment in June in Massachusetts are strongly affected by the large numbers of students and graduates entering the labor market and by seasonal rises in employment in resorts and amusements. Seasonal adjustment procedures based on past trends may overcorrect when the unemployment level becomes exceptionally high and thus result in an understated rate in June. The adjusted unemployment rates for May and June should therefore be viewed with caution.

Some signs of improvement were visible in the Massachusetts employment situation from May to June. Employment in the important durable goods manufacturing sector increased slightly after posting eleven months of uninterrupted decline. A major gain was noted in nonelectrical machinery, especially of computers, turbines, and office equipment.

In nondurable goods such as textiles, apparel, plastics, and leather goods a normal seasonal growth in employment was experienced in the April to June quarter. This gain indicates that these industries have probably reverted to the longterm slow decline that preceded the sharp drop off in the last half of 1974.

Employment in the non-manufacturing sector experienced a less than normal growth in the quarter primarily as a result of the continuing depressed condition of the construction industry.

Unemployment rates for the state's eight major metropolitan areas followed the pattern experienced at the state level prior to adjustment for seasonal factors. The Lawrence-Haverhill SMSA had the highest unemployment rate at 15.7 percent, and Boston the lowest at 12.8 percent.

'Art In The Park' Enthusiasm Grows

By Chris Young

Does the First Annual Andover Art In the Park have a nice ring to it?

The Andovers' Artist Guild and Recreation / Community Schools Department hope so because that's exactly what they want, an annual Art In the Park.

They're shooting for a quality show for the fine arts - paintings, graphics, sculpture and photography - and invitations have gone out to regional artists, ads have been placed in national art and photographic magazines and posters have been distributed to galleries and art supply stores up and down the New England coast.

The date is Oct. 4 (entry deadline is Sept. 15) with Oct. 5 as the rain date. The Park in the title is Central Park and the variety and spacing of trees lend themselves to a pleasant visual treat for the show-goer and comfortable accommodations for the exhibitors. Rain on both days will take the show indoors to East Junior High.

Planning began in February of this year with Marilyn Stella, 1974-75 President of Andover's Artist Guild and Gary Ralph, Recreation Director as show organizers. Other committee members are: Sue Daly, David Murphy, Beth Myzewski, Cory Staid, Ruth Wierenga and Chris Young.

Interested artists, both professional and amateur, are urged to pick up a registration form at the Recreation Department or at Billie's Art Supplies, 89 Main St. Registration fee is $10 for 15 feet of space. Registration deadline is Sept. 15. Cash awards donated by Andover Center Merchants as well as ribbons will

Andover Native Heads Voke School

Louis Gleason, an Andover native, was recently named superintendent - director of the Greater Lawrence Regional Vocational Technical High school in West Andover. Gleason, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gleason of Andover, has been a member of the school faculty since it opened a decade ago and will succeed James Booth, the school's first director, who is retiring. The new director attended Andover schools, Central Catholic High school, Lawrence, and received his degree from Notre Dame University, South Bend, Indiana. Following a tour of duty in the U.S. Marine Corps, he entered the leather business run by his family for a time before entering the education field. A resident of Andover, he has two sons in Andover schools, Joseph and Pedro.

Lowell U. Gets Grant For Program

The College of Health Professions at the University of Lowell is taking an active role in the highly specialized geriatric nursing practitioner field, through a two year $366,931 grant from the Bureau of Health Manpower of Health, Education and Welfare.

The federal grant is one of four, totalling $759,229, awarded to the new University, formed last June by the merger of Lowell State College and Lowell Technological Institute. The federal contract for preparing geriatric nurse practitioners is the first in the New England region.

Acting President of the University, Everett V. Olsen, called the federal contributions "an important encouragement of the growing program on the south campus."

According to a U.S. Department of Labor study, the number of older Americans in the 65 years and over category, is expected to increase some 40 per cent in the next 25 years.

Dr. Gertrude F. Barker, Dean of the University's health professions area believes traditional health delivery patterns are in a continuing state of change. "Nursing educators must respond to the present crisis in health care by providing trained manpower," according to Dr. Barker.

To this particular goal, HEW has awarded $47,705, and encumbered a similar amount for the next year to assist in revising the University nursing curriculum. Traditional nursing has centered on the care of the sick patient. The course revision funds will enable continued emphasis on the positive aspects of health care, including proper maintenance.

IRS Sets Exam Dates

John Dunn In Concert In Methuen

On Wednesday evening Aug. 20 at 8:30 p.m., the Methuen Memorial Music Hall will present the organist John Dunn in the twelfth of the current weekly summer organ recital series.

Mr. Dunn is a graduate of Harvard College and holds the Associate's certificate of the American Guild of Organists. A former student of Theodore Marier and Max Miller, he is the Assistant Music Director and Principal of the Boston Archdiocesan Choir School in Cambridge, and organist of St. Paul's Church in that city. Mr. Dunn appeared as organist with the Boston Archdiocesan Choir School at Methuen in June of 1974, and this forthcoming program will mark his first full recital at the Hall. He will perform works of Reger, Bach, Buxtehude, Messiaen, Rheinberger, Langlais, and the complete "Marian Antiphons" of the contemporary German composer Hermann Schroeder.

The Hall is located on Broadway (Route 28) in Methuen, just south of the town square, and is easily accessible from Routes 495 and Interstate 93.

Next Wednesday evening, Aug. 27, the recitalist will be the nationally-known recording artist Charles Krighbaum, Organist of Yale University, whose program will include a performance of the complete Second Symphony of Charles-Marie Widor.

Art Exhibit Scheduled

The Boston Visual Artists Union Gallery will present an exhibition entitled "Color," from Sept. 3 through Sept. 27. The opening reception, at which the artists will be present, will be on Friday, Sept. 12, from 7 to 9 p.m. The show will include a wide stylistic range in various media, including paintings, weavings, prints and jewelry, all of which involve color extensively.

The BVAU Gallery is located at 3 Center Plaza, Boston. Gallery hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Tuesday through Saturday, and Wednesday evenings until 8 p.m. Admission is free to the public.

Red Sox LL Town Champs

By Rick Harrison

Battling back from the brink of defeat, the Andover American Little League Red Sox followed the clutch pitching of Eddie Powers and Richie Sambuco to victory over the National League Giants in the annual Town Championship best-of-3 series last week.

The Giants captured the first game of the series, proving to be better "mudders" than the Sox, as they sloshed to an 11-2 victory in a drenching rain at the West Elementary School field.

The Red Sox rebounded behind the four-hit hurling of Eddie Powers to square the showdown following a 3-2 triumph, and the Sox then rode the three-hit chucking of Richie Sambuco to a 7-4 victory in the deciding contest at West School.

Both teams, who swept to first and second-half championships under the new Andover LL set-up, concluded successful seasons with excellent 19-4 overall records.

Giants, 11-2

Manager Ross Tortora's Giants had little trouble in the rain, banging out 11 hits including six for extra bases as they stretched their overall winning streak to 14 straight games.

Righthander Wayne Merola went the distance on the mound for his third successive victory, scattering four Sox safeties and fanning five.

The winners struck for two runs in the first, one in the second and third innings, three in the fourth and four more in the fifth.

Fred Foote led the assault by blasting his fifth homerun of the summer and third in four games.

Wayne Merola aided his own cause with three hits, including a pair of doubles. Steve Smith hammered a three-run double, and other two-baggers were spiked by Dave Robinson and Eric Teichert.

J.J. Downey contributed a perfect sacrifice bunt to the occasion.

Defensively the National League champs were also sharp, getting standout performances from third baseman Bob Meier, leftfielders Bernie Kavanaugh and Mike Lucey, centerfielder Jon Pelletier, catcher Dave Robinson and lefty first baseman Dave Leitch.

The Red Sox struck for solo runs in the fourth and fifth, too little too late.

Eddie Powers rapped a double and scored once, Ted Kelley clubbed a run-scoring double, losing pitcher Tom Wilkins singled and scored, and Mark Rogers drilled a single for the lone Sox hit.

Tom Hetley was his usual spectacular self at second base for the losers, handling seven chances flawlessly.

Red Sox, 3-2

Eddie Powers discovered the magic formula for beating the Giants, as he outduelled tough-luck loser Fred Foote to even the series.

Powers, in lifting his personal mound ledger to 6-1 and halting the Giants' victory skein at 14, fired a four-hitter, fanned nine and issued six walks. Both runs against him were unearned.

Foote, losing his first decision in two years, allowed only five hits, struck out six and didn't walk a batter. Only one of the runs off him was earned.

The Red Sox bunched all their runs in the bottom of the first inning, and did the damage with two outs. Consecutive singles by Powers, Tom Wilkins and Ted Kelley brought home one run, and when Richie Sambuco's grounder was misplayed two more runs crossed.

Champion Red Sox

Foote was practically untouchable after that, allowing only harmless singles to Todd Zimmerman and Powers, but the damage had been done.

The Giants made it tight in the top of the third, closing to 3-2. J.J. Downey led with a walk and Wayne Merola drilled a single to rightfield.

Dave Robinson bounced a single to right-center, and when the ball skidded through the outfielder's legs two runs crossed and Robinson wound up on third with the tying run.

Powers bore down at this pint to strike out the next two batters and escape further trouble. He breezed through the last three innings.

Singles by Fred Foote and Greg Sacco were the other safeties off Powers.

The Red Sox received some solid defensive work from Tom Hetley at second base, Todd Zimmerman at shortstop and Jeff Demers at third.

Red Sox, 7-4

The Town champs parlayed a solid team defense with the effective off-speed pitching of Richie Sambuco to secure the title, 7-4, last Sunday afternoon.

Sambuco gave up just three hits. However, he whiffed only one batter and walked seven which made it necessary for his teammates to handle 17 fielding chances behind him.

The Sox players responded admirably, as second baseman Tom Hetley had four putouts and two assists, shortstop Eddie Powers two putouts and two assists, 10-year-old third sacker Jeff Demers three putouts and three assists, leftfielder Russ Lewis two putouts and centerfielder Todd Zimmerman two putouts.

The American League champs struck for one run in the first, three in the second, and had built up a 7-1 lead before the Giants battled back to register three runs in the bottom of the fifth frame.

Tom Hetley, who took some special morning batting practice with his coach, responded with a long double, a single and two RBI's.

Tom Wilkins went 3-for-4, including a solid two-bagger and one RBI. Richie Sambuco delivered a bunt single and walked twice, with one of the free passes forcing home a run.

Todd Zimmerman lashed a single and chalked up two RBI's, Bob Faigel had a bunt single and RBI, Dick Kelley singled, Mark Rogers legged out a bunt single and Jeff Demers laid down a fine sacrifice bunt.

Altogether the Sox sprayed around 10 hits and stole four bases.

Lacing singles for the Giants were Bob Meier, Bill Lucey and Dave Leitch.

Defensive stars in a losing cause were shortstop Fred Foote and third baseman Bob Meier.

Wayne Merola and Carmen Scarpa shared the mound duties, with starter Merola taking the setback.

Roundup

This marked only the second time in the history of the Town Championship that a team lost the opening game of the series and came back to win the title.

This series also brought an end to the recent domination of the Town Championships by the National League. Last summer the Mets routed the Red Sox, two years ago the Pirates romped to victory, and prior to that the Cardinals were practically perennial champs.

Little League

Sox Manager Frank Monette, who has coached or managed eight pennant winners, rated Hetley and Powers as the top keystone combination in the Andover Little League in recent years.

Good spirit and sportsmanship was displayed throughout the series by both teams.

Monette. Coaches: Bill Emmert and Werner Anderson.

Williamsport Trek Starts Saturday

A large troupe of 36 youngsters and 11 chaperones will depart early Saturday morning from West Parish Church in Andover, bound for the annual Little League World Series at Lamonde Park in Williamsport, Pennsylvania.

The eight-day excursion (Aug. 16-24), organized for the past several years by Frank Monette of Andover, is for youngsters ages 9-15 from throughout the Greater-Lawrence area.

The first day of the trip will be spent driving to St. Joseph's College in Pennsylvania, with a brief stop in Springfield, Mass. for a tour of the Basketball Hall of Fame.

Three days will be spent at the college, during which time various sports activities will be available and the group will attend a Philadelphia Phillies-San Diego Padres National League game.

There will also be time for sightseeing in historical Philadelphia, with visits to Independence Hall, the U.S. Treasury, Betsy Ross House and Valley Forge planned.

Then it's on to Williamsport for the Series, again stopping briefly to tour the Hershey Candy Factory in Hershey, Pennsylvania.

The Series will run from August 20-23, after which the entourage will return home to Andover the evening of the 24th.

Nine-year-old boys making the trip are Mike Coelho of Andover and Ron Lavallo of Lawrence.

Ten-year-olds are Dan Kimball of Andover, Mike Shiffer of Lawrence and Paul Farhadian of Lawrence.

Eleven-year-olds include Paul Carey (Lawrence), Tom Hardy (North Andover), Steve Rourke (Lawrence), Glen Obermeier (Andover) and Alex Soucie (Lawrence).

Twelve-year-old boys are Ed Ferragamo (Andover), Russ Lewis (Andover), Tom Hetley (Andover), Dan Scanlon (Lawrence), Don Rennie (Lawrence), Jim Rennie (Lawrence), Louis Bosse (Lawrence), Paul Lever (Methuen), Bill Simm (Methuen), Fred Foote (Andover), Joe Sadel (Salem, N.H.), Russ Bassett (Lawrence), Barry Goodman (Andover), Mark Dufton (Methuen), John Sakowicz (Lawrence) and Kevin Hoffman (Andover).

Thirteens include Jack Hardy (North Andover), Scott Stewart (Lawrence), Pete Farhadian (Lawrence) and Sean Hoffman (Andover).

Fourteen-year-olds are Robbie Ouellette (Lawrence), Brian Scanlon (Lawrence), Jeff Sullivan (Salem, N.H.), Jeff Currier (Lawrence) and Rene Lavallo (Lawrence).

Chaperoning the trip, in addition to Monette, are Alfred Coelho (Andover), Roger Lewis (Andover), Bob Ouellette (Lawrence), Joe Carey (Lawrence), John Hardy (North Andover), Bernie Lever (Methuen), Russ Mead (Danvers), Bob Keaney (Lynn), Don Christensen (Lawrence) and Tom Landry (Lawrence).

Jogging Track In Use

A new outdoor half-mile jogging track is presently being used by adult members of the Andover-North Andover YMCA who are jogging enthusiasts. Both men and women may be found running through the woods bordering on the new YMCA building on Haverhill St., Andover, the path is on land owned either by the YMCA or by Merrimack College, permission having been granted by college officials.

YMCA men members roughed out the narrow road last fall with ax and saw under the direction of "Y" Physical Director Walter J. Iimball, Sr. This spring additional work was done including application of gravel and early this summer a rustic bridge over the brook was constructed. Harry Bedell, Dave Kerr and Walter Taft provided leadership and the following Boy Scouts of Troop 73 contributed many hours of hard work to complete the bridge project: Doug Taylor, Mike Morris, Tim Morris, Andy Parthum, John Howard, John Holmy, Grant Davies, and Bill McKissack.

YMCA joggers exercise at their own convenience and many use the extensive YMCA parking area, the woods track, or the YMCA gym if it is not in use and particularly as an alternate to the outdoor areas in inclement weather. Most follow with a shower in the new "Y" building and arrange their jogging time so it relates to a recreational swim. Most popular is the "Early Bird" period on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays beginning at 6:30 a.m. with a swim period 7-7:30 a.m.

Coffin Elected V.P. Of Area Arts Council

George G. Capron, Executive Director of the Merrimack Valley Council on the Arts and Humanities, said that at its annual meeting Miss Constance Leighton of Bradford was elected president of the board of directors, Mrs. Marion A. Noyes of Newburyport and Peter Coffin of North Andover was elected area vice presidents. Milton Lincoln, Haverhill, was re-elected treasurer and Pierre Baratelli, Byfield, was elected secretary to the corporation. Capron was invited to continue as Executive Director.

Capron, in his annual report, said that the Merrimack Valley Council on the Arts and Humanities has come a long way since 1972, through the complexities of incorporation, tax exemption, reports to the State Attorney General, surveys and a series of successfully sponsored and co-sponsored programs. There has been increased visibility through the programs, the Newsletter and the cultural Calendar, the development of the Advisory Committee, conference attendance, and through FOCUS. FOCUS is a continuing series of personal meetings that Capron has with leaders of educational institutions and art support organizations to determine their needs and to let them know that MVCAH is here to help.

The 800-square mile area and diversity of needs in communities have made progress slow. Capron's speaking engagements to service clubs, art associations, and visits with the Mayors of Lawrence, Haverhill and Newburyport has increased direct communications, and his office hours in Lawrence and Newburyport have helped pave the way to more effectively carrying out the aims and goals of the MVCAH. Capron has made an informational presentation to the Haverhill City Council that was broadcast on radio WHAV and has made numerous appearances on radio stations in Lowell, Haverhill and Newburyport, as well as an appearance on Haverhill's Channel 12 Cable TV. Press releases on programs are sent to 15 newspapers serving the Merrimack Valley and, as appropriate, to the Boston newspapers. The MVCAH has sought and received in-kind services from numerous educational institutions and cities and from individuals.

There has been an increase in valley-wide cultural exchange programs. The MVCAH may be credited with some of that growth.

The development of the Resources Listing has been increasing rapidly with the help of the MVCAH Board and membership and the interested public.

Individual, student and family memberships in MVCAH have increased from 30 to 100, and organization membership has grown from 9 to 40, representing 26 different towns in the Merrimack Valley. The mailing list is growing every day and now includes 71 towns in the Merrimack Valley. Total mailing is over 500, total membership 140.

Successful MVCAH programs include: The Mandala Dance Ensemble, the Boston Ballet which included a Patrons' Reception and an invitational art exhibit at Laura Knott Gallery, the Roten Gallery Exhibit and Print Sale - all co-sponsored with Bradford College. The Reception for the new Executive Director in June 1974 at Haverhill Public Library, the Fall History and Heritage Tour of the Eastern Merrimack Valley that included an invitational art exhibit at Haverhill Library, the recent Merrimack Valley Gallery Tour, and the Annual Meeting in May after which the Pentucket Choral Society presented a concert of Bicentennial music.

Capron said that he is encouraged by the growth of the Council and the inevitable formulation of policies that will promote and encourage the arts and humanities in the Merrimack Valley - he is also encouraged by the proposed programs for 1975-76. These programs include opera, orchestra, art exhibits, the second annual Fall Tour, programs with the colleges and schools (all grades, music, poetry and writing), and perhaps an all-inclusive meeting of Merrimack Valley support organization leaders.

Capron emphasized that the MVCAH needs and anticipates public support and response to MVCAH programs. MVCAH has assisted its member organizations in tax problems, organization questions, planning, acquiring technical assistance, and audience development.

The MVCAH supports all arts and humanities efforts in the Merrimack Valley but does seek individual and organization memberships to help pay for these services.

GEN. THOMAS GAGE

A British general, Thomas Gage was appointed governor of the Massachusetts Province in 1774, in a move by King George III to calm the colony. He found defiance by the Massachusetts colonists beyond his control. His civil government fell apart, as the colonists established their own. The foray by Gage's British troops in April, 1775, to seize arms stored at Concord, ended in disastrous defeat by minutemen. These colonial citizen-soldiers were the forerunners of today's Massachusetts National Guard.

The Adams National Historic Site, 135 Adams St., Quincy, is a living memorial to four generations of the Adams family. Open every day, 9 to 5.

Playground Competition Friday

This Friday, Aug. 15, all playgrounds will be participating in the first annual Good Sports Competition which will be held at South Playground beginning at 10 a.m. The final swim meet will be held at Pumps Pond on Tuesday, Aug. 19 at 11:30 a.m. Registration forms are available at each playground and at the pond. Registration deadline is 7 p.m., Monday, Aug. 18.

Ballardvale

Ballardvale playground had a drop in attendance this past week due to the poor weather and many vacationing families. The 'Vale has been hard at work on a musical skit for the good sportsman's day on Friday.

The 'Vale hosted a cheer leading contest on Wednesday. Everyone was provided watermelon, with the cheerleaders getting Canobie Lake tickets. The winning team from West was given a dozen donuts. Our cheerleaders of Debbie Prussman, Heather Taylor, Susan and Sharon Parker, Susan and Christine Conley, and Veronica Croke, did an excellent job of representing Ballardvale.

The next major project for the 'Vale is their annual carnival which will be held on Saturday, Aug. 23.

Doherty

Despite bad weather and many of the outdoor activities being forced inside, things were still rolling at Doherty.

Monday was a time to look back to the past, the age of rock and roll, the 50's. With everyone greased back and ready to roll, the day started off with a dance marathon. After two hours and many tired feet, Kathy Jasmin emerged the winner. In a dance contest, called Halt to the Music, similar to musical chairs, Nancy Abramson emerged the winner with Adrienni Fiske the runnerup. In specific dances, Beth Ann Grecoe won the Twist, Susan Erickson the Swim, Kathy Jasmin the Pony and Jenny Sanders the Bunny Hop. The final contest of the day was the most original and authentic costume, with Scott Stammers and Audrey Hill emerging the winners. Kathy Simpson and Paul Murphy were awarded runners-up.

Tuesday was fun services day, with all the playground kids, enjoying themselves at a carnival in Central Park.

Wednesday was time to go again. Pumps Pond was the destination this time with most of the playground heading for the sun and fun.

Rain canceled many of the outdoor activities on Thursday and Friday but none-the-less the playground kept buzzing. Thursday it was time for crafts as everyone spent the day working on a gum wrapper chain.

Friday closed the week with everyone going to Andover Lanes to go bowling and finished the day with a lunch of hot pizza.

Sanborn

Robin Colombosian gave Sanborn quite the start and finish last week. Her routine to Hijack has been a big hit and is sure to be one of the top talents in the talent show. While Robin, with the help of Carolyn, was teaching everyone how to dance, Terry and Lori held kickball practice but Tim and his ice cream maker had to be the feature attraction of the day. With so many anxious and hungry kids the ice cream wasn't able to make it into a solid state so we all enjoyed peppermint and chocolate chip milk shakes.

At the carnival in Central Park on Tuesday, Sanborn sold yummy snow cones and made $30! Most of this will be used to buy extra tickets for the Canobie Lake Field trip. Many Sanbornites added to the success of the fair, Chris Comparato, even managed to win a stuffed animal.

Sdrawkcab day was a huge success. Relay races were run backwards, running, skipping, hopping whatever was done was done backwards. The kickball game was a real eye full. Steve Colitz proved to kick further backwards then he does forwards — Jeff, Paul, Todd, Gina, Karen, Greg and Sharon got a chance to be counselors to make the backwards day complete. These seven kids yelled, thought up games, gave out and subtracted points. Lori, Carolyn, Tim and Terry were a little scared about losing their jobs!

Thursday's rain put a damper on outside activities but inside we had W. C. Fields, Frankenstein, Charlie Chaplin and Laurel and Hardy to help with activities, but they were pretty quiet people so Carolyn, Tim, Lori and Terry stepped into the act and with the help of Jeff Bruk, Marsha Cummings and John Healy made the kids look like Indians, tigers, movie stars and clowns. In full color under the direction of Jeff Kennedy, Paul Pathiakis and once again John Healy and the troop used the gym mats and built up some dynamite forts. Once the troops settled in Robin Colombosian, Billi Gillman and Heidi Weiner entertained everyone by dancing up a storm.

Friday morning we started singing "Rain, rain go away" but no one listened so our car wash had to be canceled. All was not lost. Marilyn Fyfe came to the rescue and helped us all make big, doft delicious pretzels. Marilyn was not the only bonus on Friday. Anne Healy and Jill Kennedy had the kids sculpturing with colored marshmallows, Beth DeFranco helped make Sanborn Stationary, Robin Colombosian and Carolyn Collins danced and John Healy and his gang built forts. It was a super Sanborn week.

Shawsheen

This week at Shawsheen playground we started the week making marshmallow men. We had marshmallow snowmen, guns and even a dog with sand for hair. Our balloon blowing contest was won by Amy Sirois who popped her balloon first.

Everyone went to fun services Tuesday for a good time. We sold all our bakery goods there.

Wednesday was both backwards day and poison penny day. We made name tags and called everyone by their backwards name. We also played softball, around the world and kickball backwards. Pat Mercier and John Howell won the booby prize for having the poison penny so we sent them through the hot oven!

Thursday we worked with origami making fortune tellers, wolves and boats. We also worked with clay. Two of the best projects were two huge battleships built by Geoff Stafford and Gary Davis.

Since our hot plate broke for our rice krispie treats we pulled marshmallows into taffy Friday.

South

This week South is bustling with activity, much of which is in preparation to host the first annual Good Sports Competition. All six playgrounds will be entering and we wish the best of luck to all.

Selected To Staff Country Day School

Miss Sally Miller has been chosen as Head Teacher for The Magic Years Country Day School. Miss Miller is a recent graduate of Wheelock College in Boston, Mass. where she majored in Early Childhood Education and Art. While at Wheelock, she helped create the Haunted House at The Children's Museum. She was selected for the Student International Service in Sweden in 1970.

Miss Karen Crites was selected as the afternoon assistant teacher. She is a graduate of Northern Essex Community College where she majored in Early Childhood Education. Miss Crites did her student teaching at the Magic Years this past year and was selected for her position on the staff because of her outstanding work with the children. She planned and participated in many of the activities, including field trips. Miss Crites also has a strong background in creative dramatics and music.

The Magic Years Country Day School is a nursery school with an extended day available for the children of working parents. It is open daily from 7:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. All children participate in the open, flexible nursery curriculum in the morning, during which time there is a 6 to 1 ratio of children to teachers. Transportation is available at a nominal fee for the morning program.

For Further information concerning the school, contact Mrs. Frederick N. Adams, director, or Mrs. Kenneth Garland, business manager.

South is proud to announce our profit for selling drinks at Fun Services was $16.35. We haven't decided on how to spend it yet.

Linda and some children went swimming at Pumps and Wednesday was our Halloween Party. John Kovacs won the scariest costume award. Others were, most original, Carrie Sedwick and Cheryl Fisk, prettiest was Carla and Aimee Levi, cuddliest Jeremy Kovacs, funniest Evan Wasseman, and most authentic Suzi Watt. The day's events included bobbing for apples, donut on a string and candy hunt.

When the rainy days came we were forced inside. We made fruit salad and watched our talent show. Kim Siefert highlighted it with her gymnastic abilities.

We would like to thank West for inviting us to their talent show and for the popcorn.

Last but not least was our overnight. Twenty five kids and all the counselors spent a noisy, rainy night at Recreation Park lodge. Linda was our chef for dinner, while Carrie set the tables and Steve built a huge fire. We want to thank Mrs. Sedwick for all the popcorn she sent us. Finally things settled down and we got some sleep. After all the frustration and lack of sleep someone was nice enough to crawl out of bed at 6:30 a.m. and cook everyone the most delicious pancakes ever made though some were satisfied with Cap'n Crunch. We all had an enjoyable time and went home with mosquito bites, thanks to Pippi who left the window open.

West

The West Wildcats, cheerleaders captained by Stacey Hostetter shouted their way to first place in the first annual playground cheering contest at Ballardvale Playground last Wednesday.

Said squad leader Stacey Hostetter and Missy Garland, "We got the spirit!"

Floppy hats, long gloves, fancy sandwiches and after dinner mints were the bill of fare at the annual Tea Party on a rainy Thursday morning.

Six Frogs a Night the rock-group were the stars of the show Friday as the Wild West Talent show was underway in spite of the rain. Our Master of ceremonies, Scott Amsterdam, kept everyone in stitches with his knock-knock jokes while an array of dancers, singers, piano and guitar players entertained all present.

Looking at the Wild World of sports the West Wildcats roll on. Behind the superb play of Mark Desmet, Brian Howell, and Scott Powers the wildcats continue to rumble over their opponents in kickball and basketball. Bring on the Celts, we're ready!

Looking ahead, to the eighth and last week of playground, our overnight to the Rec Park will be next Thursday and the closing Friday will be clean-up then bring your sweet tooth for the ice cream smorgasborg!!

An electron microscope reveals the submicroscopic structures in the feathers of hummingbirds that create iridescence, the Massachusetts Audubon Society says. Barbules, that run parallel to the shaft of the feather, are made up of flat platelets. These platelets have several air spaces divided by thin shell. The colors that flash as result of refracting and reflecting light are determined by the thickness of the platelets.

Sculptors In Exhibit At Hingham

The New England Sculptors Association will hold an open members show titled "Spaces Defined" at the Hingham Public Library, 66 Leavitt St., Hingham, on Aug. 15 through Sept. 5. For this summer show, the hours will be Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., Friday 1 to 6 and Saturday 1 to 4 p.m.

This members unjuried show will exhibit the works of over 20 sculptors in mixed medias ranging from ceramic life size figures, to five feet constructions of stainless steel and wood. Included will be pieces of wood, welded metals, carved forms and many other exciting interpretations of spaces and materials.

The New England Sculptors Association is an organization, founded over 25 years ago, to promote public interest in contemporary sculpture. Its members extend into the six New England states and include both well known sculptors and developing young talent. Sculpture, by use of design and form combines visual and sensual experience with the artists need to express emotion. Whether carved, welded, molded or constructed, these works create an ideal in physical terms.

Some Views From Our AFS Students

The Andover chapter of American Field Service currently has two Andover High School students participating in their studies abroad program. Bill Kenney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kenney of 11 Sagamore Drive is spending the year in La Cabera, Chile. Maureen Gannon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gannon of 6 Virginia Road is on the summer program in Tiruchirapalli, India.

Both students have been writing interesting and enthusiastic letters home telling of their experiences and impressions of their host countries and families. With their permissions, excerpts from their letters are herewith shared with the readers of the Andover Townsman.

Impressions from India
by Maureen Gannon

I'm here in Tiruchirapalli after a four-day stay in Bombay. The two cities are tremendously different. Bombay is quite westernized. The women try to avoid wearing saris; they are so interested in Western fashion. Tiruchi is marvelous, though. The people are not at all Westernized — in fashion or anything else.

When my plane arrived in Tiruchi (after a 27-hour flight), I received a grand welcome from my family and many other townspeople. They gave me a beautiful lei consisting of rose petals and white and purple flowers. Everyone was anxious to take my picture, shake my hand, and learn about the United States. There are twelve children in my family, of which ten are living at home. The two eldest, both girls, are doctors — one working in New York City, the other studying in Madras City (about 180 miles east of Tiruchi). Except for three-year-old Deepu, the youngest child, everyone attends school from 9 a.m. until 5:45 p.m. I have been to their schools several times — they're so interesting. All the students immediately ask me to sing American songs!

My family is so wonderful. They treat me not as a guest but as a member of the family. The smaller children frequently feel my skin and hair to see if it is the same as theirs. My mother, whom we call Amma, brought me to a Hindu wedding ceremony. The bride and groom had never laid eyes on one another and couldn't look at one another during the ceremony! The other guests seemed more interested in me than in the couple-to-be. They are unaccustomed to seeing anyone other than an Indian in Tiruchi.

My family has also taken me to many temples, a dance festival, a glass home in the mountains, their eight-acre farm, and a play done in Tamil, the Indian dialect spoken here. I have spoken to the Rotary Club and have been interviewed on the radio. There is not an excessive language barrier, as most of the family and many of the people here speak English.

I love to go to town just to watch the people. Witnessing the contrasts among their ways of life is an education in itself. There are the doctors and lawyers, the laborers, and the poverty-stricken untouchables, plus many other classes in between. Animals such as monkeys and cows roam the streets freely. Scorpions and lizards are plentiful, and I've seen a few snakes. There are numerous types of birds of many colors and sizes. I hear so many sounds with which I am unfamiliar. The birds fly at random, in and out of the houses. Fragrant flowers are abundant and we wear them in our hair. It is not uncommon to

Correspondence from Chile

I'm sorry I haven't written in so long. I went on my trip to Antotogasta, (500 miles north of La Cabera). I would have written sooner from there, but the letters are real expensive so I figured I'd wait until I came back.

I had a real dynamite time. It was quite an experience traveling 20 hours via bus in a different country with a different language.

I loved it! You wouldn't believe the desert they have up north. Man, there is nothing, NOTHING, just sand and hills. No life, no plants, nothing moves. Antotogasta is just plunked down right in the middle of all this, on the coast. The desert is very beautiful in its own little way. I arrived Tuesday, July 15 and stayed with a good buddy of mine from New York at his host family's place and several other AFS students from the United States also gathered in town.

We went to see some of the beaches around Antotogasta which are so beautiful. I must have taken close to a roll of pictures. One day we went to a beach crab hunting. The beaches have loads of tidal pools and we were hunting crabs, sea urchins and star fish. The Pacific up there is so blue and the waves are huge!!

It is really kind of weird but I missed my Chilean family when I was away. I wanted to leave Antotogasta Sunday, but there weren't any available bus seats until Tuesday, so I lost two days of school. I got back today, July 30, and some of the kids have told me that my class in school was kind of worried, wondering where I was. That really made my day!

There is a party for AFS coming up and I have to speak about my experiences so far, in Spanish. But, after two weeks of "Spingles" (½ Spanish, ½ English) my Spanish is kind of hurting. I've got to practice a

Campaign Promotes Bay State

With the attention of the nation focused on Massachusetts as communities throughout the state observe Bicentennial events the next two years, the Massachusetts Department of Commerce & Development announced that it will continue its already successful in-state public service campaign with the theme "There's No Place Like Home."

Ernest A. Lucci, Commissioner of the Massachusetts Department of Commerce &

Development, declared, in making the announcement, that the continuation of the public service program is more appropriate than ever this year.

Besides the necessity for conservation of energy, this is probably the most significant time in this century for residents of the state to visit the historic sites, events, and recreational attractions in the Commonwealth, Commissioner Lucci said.

Objective of the public service campaign is to increase interest among Massachusetts residents to appreciate and explore the rich heritage, national historic shrines and outstanding recreational facilities within the Commonwealth. The campaign offers reasonable, alternative suggestions to long-distance travel.

This campaign has also been extended to include print media with a series of public messages. Every Massachusetts publication and company house organ will be provided with materials.

see little girls too poor to have clothes wearing flowers in their braids.

The customs here are so different and interesting. When the moon is full, we eat off wet banana leaves. To learn our fortunes, a man comes from house to house with his donkey. He asks the donkey questions and the answers are yes or no, depending on which way the donkey moves his head. Tarring a road is quite a project here, as it is done by one man who uses a bucket and ladel. Billboards are hand-painted and the staging for new buildings is wooden.

There are so, so many things that the Indians do differently from Americans and I am trying to grasp as much as possible. If only the summer were longer! I am very grateful to AFS that I am having this once-in-a-lifetime experience in such a fascinating country!

Love,

lot before Saturday! Inflation is pretty tough. When I arrived here in January it was 2000 escudos to the dollar. Now it is 6000!!!

I think I've got a pretty special family. They are pretty loose and don't put any restrictions on me. They want me to know as much as possible before I go.

Dad, here, is kind of tense because of the economic situation. He loves to play chess. I get along with him well. He's usually teasing me about something all the time. Mom, here, reminds me of my real mother, quiet but really funny at times. She's always got the right line for the right time. She's a dynamite cook and is always watching over me.

Edward, my older brother works in the store. He speaks almost perfect English. Just about everyone in the family goes to him for guidance for any problems. He's real cool-headed but is always looking for a good time.

Christie, my sister, is studying at the Univ. of Chile in Santiago. She's a good student and a lot of fun.

Alejandro, my other brother, is a real quiet guy. He's in a different world than me considering he studies in Quillota. He's an ELP freak and loves good tunes. I'm turning him on to Yes.

That's it in a nutshell. Tell everyone I said "Hi".

From these letters, AFS hopes people will become more interested in the AFS program. If one is interested in knowing more about the Andover chapter, contact the chapter's president, Mrs. Jan Sagaser, 56 Chestnut St.

Do You Remember?

Or know someone who does - swimming in Hussey Pond? Or dancing at the Crystal Ballroom? Or anything else about Shawsheen Village in the 1920's? If so, please contact Dr. Edward G. Roddy, Jr. at 475-4267 evenings or the Merrimack Valley Textile Museum at 686-0191. Roddy is one of a team of humanists working with the Textile Museum to help residents of Shawsheen Village and Lawrence's North Canal area to decide what historic mill buildings and areas should be preserved.

Shawsheen In Special Study

Remnants of the textile era in Greater Lawrence — historic buildings, canals and homes — are the focus of a special study funded by a $6,000 grant from the Massachusetts Foundation for Humanities and Public Policy, it was announced this week by Thomas W. Leavitt, director of the Merrimack Valley Textile Museum.

The project — "What Should We Save? Greater Lawrence After the Bicentennial" — takes a look at Andover's Shawsheen Village and Lawrence's North Canal district and will ultimately ask the communities themselves what should be preserved.

"This is a new concept in the attempt to reconcile progress with preservation," said Leavitt, project director. "We'll present creative and critical thinking and information to residents, helping them to participate in intelligent choices regarding their environment."

The foundation grant, one of six awarded in the state, is designed to stimulate discussion of local issues with the assistance of academic humanists. Theme for the statewide program is "I Want, You Want, We Want — Right, Power and Community".

Working with Leavitt are a team of humanists from Merrimack College who are spending the summer gathering data on the two locales and the issues. Dr. Edward G. Roddy, Jr. is studying the Shawsheen area, a nationally recognized model community for textile mill corporate management and their families which emerged in Andover between 1919-1923. A study of Lawrence's North Canal — once the site of some of the world's largest worsted, woolen and cotton mills — is being conducted by Dr. Peter A. Ford. Dr. Donald X. Burt is examining the ethical implications of preservation and will interview residents of both study areas to determine their attitudes.

AnnMarie Manzi, a graduate student in art history, is project photographer. Others assisting in the study are Donald Hayes of the Andover Historical Society and Phyllis Tyler of the Lawrence Historical Society.

William L. Lane, president of the Greater Lawrence Chamber of Commerce, is also cooperating with the Textile Museum in developing the project.

The academic study team will give a slide and tape presentation of their findings at a public forum in each community in early fall. Panel members will also include realtors, businessmen and civic leaders, giving residents a cross-current of ideas and opinions.

"For example, panel members arguing for and against saving Shawsheen's Sacred Heart School building, once the administration center for the American Woolen Co., will have to justify their positions to one another and the audience," said Leavitt.

Two to three weeks after the forums a second meeting will be held in each community to arrive at a consensus among residents. To help in the decision-making process, guided tours of both areas will be conducted some time prior to the forums.

According to Roddy, a specialist in late 19th and 20th century U.S. history, Shawsheen Village was an unusual experiment by William M. Wood, Sr., founder of the American Woolen Co. The community offered a rather opulent lifestyle to his middle and upper management personnel and their families. In addition to substantial and often elaborate homes, employees could enjoy such amenities as the Balmoral Fields — offering hockey, tennis, soccer and ice skating — plus a restaurant (later the Crystal Ballroom), a bowling alley, theater, spa and swimming in Hussey Pond.

After Wood's retirement in 1924 the recreational and commercial sites were gradually absorbed by outside interests and the community as Wood designed it was phased out.

In studying the North Canal district, urban historian Ford also sees a distinct move away from the model industrial city of Lawrence which was constructed in the mid-1800's.

Ford notes that trees once lined one side of the canal in front of the extended rows of brick boarding houses for workers. As industry expanded across the canal, trees and boarding houses came down, more bridges sprang up and other changes occurred until by the early 20th century the original design scheme was largely erased.

Ford, whose expertise is in tracing the evolution of cities over centuries, sees Lawrence following certain contemporary patterns, such as the migration of many of its people to surrounding suburban areas.

Burt, a humanist and philosopher, will interview residents of both study areas to determine local attitudes towards preservation and progress. He will also develop

Can many difficulties in modern society be attributed to rootlessness and loss of identity? Does removal of links to the past cause a loss of identity?

Residents in the Shawsheen and North Canal areas — or anyone in the Greater Lawrence area who would like to help with the project by sharing memories of memorabilia of the two locales — are urged to call the Textile Museum.

Evening Courses At Ag. Tech

Sixteen evening courses in the adult education division at the Essex Agricultural and Technical Institute are being offered area residents. Classes will meet one evening a week from 7 to 10 p.m., and are free of charge for Essex County residents.

Registration will be held in Smith Hall on Aug. 25 between 7 and 9 p.m. Each individual must register in person or send someone not registering for a class to register for them. Class enrollment is limited and will be on a first come, first served basis.

Courses scheduled in the agricultural division include: greenhouse production, home vegetable gardening, home grounds improvement, horse management, backyard poultry, earth moving equipment course to prepare operators for Public Safety class C hoisting license, floral design, meat cutting and merchandising, indoor plant culture, livestock management for home producer, maintenance of small air-cooled engines, small fruit culture for home grounds, principles and practices of nutrition, personnel administration in food industry, practical beekeeping, and tree maintenance.

Requests for further information should be directed to Frank McGee at the school.

When it's time to RETIRE, will you be able to?

HERE IS SOME STRAIGHT TALK ON INDIVIDUAL RETIREMENT ACCOUNTS...

At age 65, Social Security now pays slightly more than $300 a month, if you are earning $6,000 a year. Not exactly a "bundle", is it? But now the Internal Revenue will allow you to establish, and make contributions to, your own Individual Retirement Account (IRA) on a regular basis, thus ensuring additional funds available when you retire.

And here's the best part:

THE AMOUNTS YOU DEPOSIT EACH YEAR ARE DEDUCTED FROM YOUR INCOME, THEREFORE YOU PAY NO TAX ON IT, NOR ON ANY INTEREST IT ACCUMULATES THROUGH THE YEARS, UNTIL SUCH TIME AS YOU RETIRE!

DO YOU QUALIFY?

Ask yourself these questions. They will tell you if you need our Individual Retirement account:

- |  | YES                      | NO                       |
|--|--------------------------|--------------------------|
| 1. Am I covered by a company retirement plan now?  | <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| 2. Am I confident that my Social Security check alone will be enough to support me?  | <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| 3. Would it be a problem for me to contribute to my plan on an annual basis? (the government allows up to 15% of your total income, with a maximum of $1500 each year.) | <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |

If you answered "NO" to the above questions, you should investigate immediately an Individual Retirement Account at the Merrimack Valley Bank.

REMEMBER, between now and age 59½, when you can begin withdrawing your retirement income, you will be able to deduct each contribution from your income tax. And if you have a checking account at Merrimack Valley Bank, we can even transfer the amount you choose automatically.

Your retirement years are not as far away as you may think. The time to act is now! Stop by any of our convenient offices and get the facts today.

Charlene Niziak of Andover was third runnerup in the recent Miss Massachusetts Teenager contest held in Burlington.

The number of pounds of sulphur dioxide (a gas which can cause bronchitis and emphysema) given off into the air can be computed, according to one formula, Massachusetts Audubon says. For a city dweller, divide the kilowatt-hour power consumption on the electric bill by 200. In suburban New England, divide by 100 and in rural areas, divide by 50, because more sulphur is allowed in the fuel burned by utilities in the country than in the cities.

Administrative Change At Merrimack

Rev. John R. Aherne, O.S.A., President of Merrimack College, announced that he had submitted his resignation as President of Merrimack College effective June 1, 1976 at a meeting of the Board of Trustees. The Board accepted the resignation.

In view of the great financial needs of private institutions, Father Aherne will devote his full time to fund raising and development activities.

It was also announced by the Chairman of the Merrimack College Board of Trustees, Rev. Edward L. Daley, O.S.A., that Rev. John A. Coughlan, O.S.A., Ph.D., Vice President for Academic Affairs, has been named Executive Vice President of Merrimack College. During this interim period, Father Coughlan will assume full responsibility for the operation of the college. He will serve as its chief executive officer.

A native of Silver Spring,

Maryland, Father Coughlan is a 1947 graduate of Gonzaga High School in Washington, D.C. From 1947-49 he attended the University of Maryland and entered the Augustinian Order in 1950.

The 46 year old Augustinian received his A.B. in Philosophy from Villanova University in 1952 and continued his theological studies at Augustinian College in Washington, D.C. where he was ordained in 1955. From 1956 to 1963, he served as a professor of Mathematics and Economics and as Social Studies Director at Archbishop Carroll High School in Washington, D.C.

During this period, Father Coughlan also pursued graduate studies in Economics at the Catholic University of America. He was awarded the M.A. degree in Economics in 1958 and the Ph.D. degree in Economics from Catholic University in 1965.

In 1964, Father Coughlan was appointed to the faculty of Villanova University where he served as Chairman of the Economics Department, and was active in university administration and curriculum. He was named Academic Dean and Vice President for Academic Affairs at Merrimack College in August, 1968, which position he now holds presently until this appointment.

Father Coughlan was elected to a four-year term as a member of the Board of Trustees of Villanova University in October, 1973. From 1971 to 1975 he was a Provincial Councilor for the Augustinian Province of St. Thomas of Villanova. He was also a member of the Board of Trustees of Austin Preparatory School in Reading, from 1970 to 1973.

A member of Pi Gamma Mu, the national science honorary fraternity, Father Coughlan is a member of the American Conference of Academic Deans and the American Economic Association.

Father Aherne indicated that after having served for 7 years as president of the college, he had accomplished much of the objectives which he had formulated at the time he undertook the presidency of the college. During this time he had seen the completion of a new physical education building, a new infirmary and new dormitory.

In addition, during his tenure, he instituted changes in the academic curriculum. Under his guidance and leadership a new program in Business Administration was instituted. Under this program a student combines his academic studies with work experience in the business world. The success of this program has also led to the institution of a work-study program in the Department of Engineering. Recently the Part-Time Division was reorganized and renamed the Division of Continuing Education. Although this division has only been in existence for one year, it has made considerable strides in meeting the need for continuing education in the Merrimack Valley.

Bicentennial Medallions

The medallions for Andover's Bicentennial observance have arrived and are being checked over by the members of the committee. The commemorative medallions are symbolic of Andover history, containing the town seal on one side, the busts of Samuel Phillips, Sr. and Samuel Phillips Jr., and the Bicentennial logo, on the other. The medals will be offered in silver and gold and are expected to be ready prior to Christmas. Committee members, standing from left, Col. Edward M. Harris, Town Clerk Elden R. Salter and John Lewis. Seated, Barbara Saulnier, medallion committee chairman and Bicentennial Chairman Norma Gammon.

Openings At College

Andover Junior College is still accepting students for Certificate and Associate Degree Programs, as well as non-credit courses, beginning in September.

The Associate Degree Program consists of sixty weeks of courses with majors in either Accounting, Management, or the Executive Secretarial Sciences. The thirty week Certificate Program offers courses in Retailing, Bookkeeping, Clerk/Typist, Machine Transcribing Secretary, and an Advanced Secretarial Course.

Entrance examination testing dates for September enrollment are Aug. 8, Aug. 22, Sept. 5, and Sept. 19. The examination is administered at Andover Junior College at 10 a.m. There is no fee. For further information contact Tom Cady.

Fr. Hart Observes Jubilee

Rev. Charles F. Hart, O.S.A., an Andover native, was the principal celebrant at a Concelebrated Mass of Thanksgiving on Sunday, Aug. 10 at St. Augustine's church, North Troy, N.Y., commemorating his Golden Jubilee in the priesthood.

Father Hart, was honored at a reception following the Mass, and was presented with a chalice, consecrated in Vatican City and first used in Mass on July 2, 1925 by Pope Pius, XI.

The son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Hart of Andover, Fr. Hart was ordained Aug. 2, 1925, with his brother Rev. Leo A. Hart, O.S.A. The brothers celebrated their first Mass in St. Augustine's Church, Andover on Aug. 10, 1925, with their cousin, Very Rev. Charles M. Driscoll, O.S.A., then assistant general of the Augustinian Order, serving as master of ceremonies.

Father Charles Hart attended Andover schools and entered Villanova College to prepare for the priesthood. Following his ordination, he spent a year at Catholic University, Washington, D.C. and a year at St. Rita's parish in Philadelphia, Pa.

He was assigned to St. Mary's parish, Lawrence in 1927, prior to serving in Lewisburg, Pa. where he was pastor of Sacred Heart of Jesus parish.

Father Hart also served for a number of years as a prison chaplain in Pennsylvania before being assigned to his present duties at St. Augustine's in Troy, N.Y.

At the first Masses, celebrated at 9 and 10:30 a.m. in St. Augustine's, Andover 50 years, the brothers served as deacons for each other, and were joined by family, friends and hundreds of local residents.

Serving as ushers were

James Dyer, John P.S. Doherty, John E. Dugan and Augustine Sullivan.

Recycling Effort Gets Help

Alexander Fitzgerald Somberg, helps mother, Lollie Somberg with some recycling messages which will be sent to all Andover residents with their tax bills later this month. Mrs. Somberg has been stuffing the envelopes with a message about the new Andover Recycling program, as well as the schedule of weekly pickups. Unfortunately the mail will also contain your real estate tax bill. After the stuffing process is complete, the envelopes will be returned to town hall to await the setting of the tax rate and the processing of bills to complete the envelope.

Nab Six In Break At Store

Six Andover men face a further court hearing as a result of being apprehended early Saturday morning and charged with breaking and entering and larceny in connection with a break at Driscoll's Package Store on Bartlet street.

Stephen Gallant, 22, 15 Vine St.; Geoffrey W. Sexton, 21, Paul Revere Hall, Phillips Academy, Donald Campbell, Jr., 21, 38 Main St.; Kenneth Stephen, 24, 5 Chapman Ave.; John C. Burns, III, 22, 56 Wildwood Road and Jonathan R. Mosher, 23, 148 Haggetts Pond Road, all were arraigned in Lawrence District Court on Saturday and have their cases continued for later hearing.

The arrests were a result of a neighbor calling Andover police shortly before dawn Saturday reporting suspicious noises at the store.

Sgt. Richard Enos and Patrolmen Thomas Siopes and Roger Dufresne reported to the scene where they found the front window smashed and some broken liquor bottles. The police were able to trail the glass and spilled liquor to a Main street apartment where the six men were arrested and the stolen liquor confiscated.

Over $1,000 in liquor was reported stolen in the break.

The fate of wildlife depends mostly on land-use planning that provides habitats where animals can live and breed, the Massachusetts Audubon Society tells us. Hollow stumps, thickets and rotten wood provide nesting sites. Wild animals also need space to loaf around in, to preen, sun and dust themselves.

Skating Through Vacation

School vacation may be rapidly approaching an end, but these youngsters continue to enjoy themselves as part of the Summer Fun Club activity at the Andover-North Andover YMCA. Lacing up for a skate around the facilities are Phil Puccia and Wendy Rittera.

Summer Fun Club Held

The Andover-North Andover YMCA Summer Fun Club was conducted for a six week period beginning June 27.

A building-centered day camp type program and environs. YMCA Youth Program Director Gary Green supervised a program on Tuesdays and Thursdays of each week, 9 a.m.-4 p.m., with bus transportation from pickup points at all three YMCA locations in the two towns. He was assisted by a staff of YMCA volunteers of the 24 assistants regular leadership was provided by: Bill and Julie Lacey, Ann Seibk, Luann Giannone, Simon Moseley and Mike Kittle. Eighty-four different enrollees produced an attendance total of 549. Average daily attendance with participation in other YMCA Summer Programs including swimming instruction, recreational swims, recreation physical activities and, particularly joining the Trip Club group on Monday, Wednesday and Friday to fill out a full week of YMCA activity.

COL. WILLIAM HENSHAW

First use of the term "minutemen" was by Worcester County patriot Col. William Henshaw of Leicester. In November, 1774, he petitioned the Massachusetts Provincial Congress for permission to use a new drill for his "minutemen". The term was already in use informally, but this was the first official mention. These minutemen, armed only with the essentials needed for battle, trained in every town, and were ready to act immediately against the British. Today's Massachusetts National Guardsmen, training in their own communities, like the earlier minutemen, are ready to respond to protect life and property during emergencies.

SAVE TWICE. SAVE ON ELECTRICITY. AND SAVE WHAT YOU SAVE WITH US.

There's more to saving electricity than just turning off lights. Turn your heat down in your home. Make better use of your appliances. Like waiting until you have a really big load before you run your washer. And using cold water instead of hot. And figuring out for yourself how long it really takes to dry a load of clothes instead of just running your dryer until you think they're dry.

For instance, synthetics usually only take 10 to 15 minutes, permanent press 20 to 25 minutes and towels maybe 30 to 40 minutes. And stopping your dishwasher after the last rinse, opening the door, and letting everything air dry. Even something as simple as turning off the lights in rooms not being used. See, you've already saved a lot.

And we can help you save even more. By offering you plenty of ways to save the money you save by saving electricity.

Like our NOW Account that looks and works like a free checking account, plus, pays you 5% interest on your money. Regular Savings Accounts. And Term Certificates. One or more, the right way for you to save what you save on electricity.

Any one of us here at any of our six offices will be happy to help you plan which savings program is best for you and your future.

We're the biggest savings bank in the Merrimack Valley. You don't get there unless you know how to help people save even better. You don't have to think twice about that.

Rep. Gerald Cohen Sets Hectic Pace

"You get a new respect for public transportation."

"Re-election? I'm not thinking about that just yet!"

"Our committee is pulling the reins."

By Linda S. Corbett

It was just about a year ago that Attorney Gerald Cohen won the Democratic primary for the new, Andover-only seat in the State House of Representatives.

And, about a year from now, Cohen will have to decide whether or not to run again.

Theoretically, he says, you never think about re-election; practically, you're always thinking about it.

"When I have free time," he says, "I wonder what the people out there think I'm doing. But when I spend 110 percent of the time doing my job, I don't think about it."

Some of the representatives, he goes on, send out constant, canned press releases to keep their names before their constituents, and are always mailing out little things "compliments of..."

They're running for re-election every day, Cohen says, adding that "that's not my attitude... though I may be shocked to find out it should have been."

Commuting

Cohen meanwhile sets a hectic pace, beginning with a commute to Boston that has given him new respect for public transportation.

He actually finds it "interesting" and says it gives him a chance to catch up with the volumes of reading material that land on his desk in the State House offices of the prestigious Post Audit Committee.

It's also an opportunity for him to be tagged by his Andover constituents with gripes about taxes, too many state employees, welfare, and the like. Many of the complaints are less awesome, ones, such as a license that wasn't returned on time. Sometimes, Cohen says, some of the people in the bureaucratic chain of command just need to be "tickled" a little.

Accountability

"I am not a super-selectman," Cohen goes on, "I am a state employee," though he feels he's accountable for anything that happens on the state level for the town of Andover.

He says the town manager keeps him advised of things going on in town and feels he has very good rapport with town employees.

This may not have been so, he says, before redistricting gave Andover its own representative. Previously there were three reps — none from Andover — and two senators to communicate with on Beacon Hill.

Redistricting

Redistricting will become an issue again during the next term, when, at the very least, another town will be added to Andover's district. Or worse, Andover could be split up again.

New districts, Cohen says, will be made up of 30 to 40,000 people, while the census now puts Andover at roughly 26,000.

A combination of Andover and North Reading might make a perfect district, he says, while a logical grouping would be the addition of North Andover to Andover. The former's population of 16 or 17,000, however, would put the district above the limit.

Still another possibility, Cohen says, would be the addition of a contiguous ward of Lawrence.

One of Cohen's campaign points — which he still believes — is that a Democratic representative would be in a better position to lobby with the Democratic leadership, to keep Andover whole.

The Train

Another issue of prime importance to Andover is the MBTA train. In fact, it provided Cohen's first success, even before he officially took office.

The train question came to a head just after last November's election, and it was Cohen who arranged the meeting between the commuters and the MBTA that led to the escrow account, and the continuing of the train until Town Meeting voted to pick up the tab.

The train is okay for the time being, Cohen says, though it, and other major funding projects, will not be funded until after the budget is approved.

The possibility is always there that the legislature would not vote to reimburse the towns 50 percent of their MBTA bills, Cohen says, but adds that he would be "totally surprised" if that were to happen.

Still another important matter to Andover is an access road off I-93 at Lowell Junction, to relieve traffic congestion in Ballardvale. A resolution is probably three to four years away, Cohen says, because improvement of Route 114 is the number one priority for this area. However, he says, he hopes the idea can be processed and studies underway long before then.

Praises Town Hall

Another question is the amount of money Andover is going to get each year from the state. Cohen says the town did fairly well on the "cherry sheets" this year, coming out ahead of what was expected.

He attributed that bonus to "capable people" in Town Hall who did their homework.

Some towns received less than planned, he says, just because their officials didn't know what they were doing.

Each representative may serve on one major committee, and Cohen was appointed by the Speaker of the House to his first choice — the Post Audit Committee.

It's not "auditing" in a financial sense, Cohen says, but in "performance," with the committee judging how well various state agencies are implementing the laws the legislature has passed.

Right now, for instance, they're doing a post audit on Chapter 766, a program Cohen believes in totally "in concept and intent."

In one section of the Department of Welfare, the committee discovered that 114 employees had returned $20 million to the state, and recommended that this program be expanded. On the other hand, the Welfare Bureau of Audit was found to have more employees than it should for the amount of abuses they were finding.

Saving Millions

A post audit of Boston State College revealed a ratio of one faculty member to 14 students, while state law requires only one to 30. Laying off faculty to abide by the law, Cohen says, could save the Commonwealth $2 million.

And, he adds, that's just one college. The committee is working on Fitchburg State now, with seven to go, and hopes to save up to $25 million in faculty utilization in the college system alone. That doesn't even count the state university level.

Everyone thinks the state is spending just as fast as it can, Cohen goes on. "People think no one is there pulling on the reins — but our committee is one that is."

Consumer Protection

Cohen's request to be on the Consumer Marketing Commission — because he was in the food industry before he returned to law schools — was also granted.

That group is presenting legislation this week to abolish the milk control board on the state level, since the services are duplicated by the federal government on a regional basis anyway.

Cohen says they may also recommend doing away with "fair trade," feeling that free competition should set the price and benefit the consumer.

Cohen's efforts have also helped bring a consumer protection office back to Lawrence. The local office was closed by the attorney general after the election, and though they set up a WATS telephone line to Boston, there still was a void. Cohen worked with the Chamber of Commerce and the Community Action Committee, and through outside funding, the new office won't cost the state a cent.

Cohen has also been named to the new Governor's Task Force on Children's Services, a committee designed to "put some sense" into the delivery of services for children.

None of the services — mental, employment, probation, education — have been coordinated, Cohen says, and "kids go from pillar to post in a morass of mismanagement."

Juvenile Justice

He has long been interested in juvenile justice and in the Department of Youth Services, and has an intern from Boston College working with him now on the juvenile code. He has also been teaching a graduate class in criminal justice at the American International College, and business law at Merrimack College.

He also wants to write a book for juveniles on their rights and privileges under the law. He would concentrate on the juvenile's right to punishment — "which most of them don't think they have" — with the hope of catching them before they get in the process of the detention system in the first place.

Cohen's young law practice, at 166 North Main Street, has been pretty much confined to evenings and Saturday mornings because, as he did during last summer's campaign, being a representative is a full time job.

Indeed, as he dashes up the State House stairs to catch a roll call vote, or grab a coffee and candy bar lunch at the fourth floor snack bar on his way to a committee meeting, that appears to be so.

A Determination Due On Real Estate

How much real estate can a community afford, may well be a question to be answered by the October town meeting.

Tentative agenda items include consideration of land and building to the rear of Memorial Hall library, and the Sacred Heart property in Shawsheen, involving considerable acreage plus buildings.

The library land and building, the so-called theater property on Essex street, will be before the voters once again, this time at a higher price.

A few years ago the town had the opportunity to acquire the particular parcel at a cost of $80,000. It was rejected at the time, based on prospective use as a parking lot and the building being torn down.

Since that time the theater building itself, has undergone considerable renovation and there now appears to be a desire to use the structure for library needs.

The land with the building includes a lot off Pearson street.

Price tag for the property is in excess of $200,000 now.

We can appreciate the desire of the library trustees and the town to acquire land around the library to provide for parking, protect the town's investment in a valuable and historic building and also allow for possible future expansion of the library facility.

We can likewise appreciate the desire to acquire the land involved in the Sacred Heart school property in Shawsheen. This too provides some protection for the town, holding the land against continued development, thus requiring additional school space utility lines, etc.

The buildings, however, present some major problems.

Should a municipality get into the business of becoming a landlord, which is what would possibly happen, should the structures be obtained along with the land.

As for the theater building, there is reason to believe the library could use the structure for storage and possibly some services. Too, there is indication that it could be revenue producing through its use for the state regional library system operations.

To be considered as revenue producing as far as the state is concerned, we would need more than verbal assurance to be convinced of such possibilities.

Current economic conditions of the Commonwealth indicate reluctance to assume new expenses, or expand services, thus anticipated revenues to offset the cost of acquisition would weigh heavily in any final decisions on this portion of the property acquisition.

As for the Sacred Heart building, the question seems to be could it ever be put to a town use.

There has been no overwhelming desire by any town agency to use either the main building, structurally sound and architecturally appealing, or the accompanying Cardinal Cushing Gymnasium structure on Haverhill street, now used as a polling place for Precinct three.

The main building, formerly the general offices of the American Woolen Company, contain about three times more floor space than would be required by all town agencies.

To let the building lie idle, if acquired, would lead to deterioration through normal course, coupled with vandalism.

For the town to use a portion, and lease the remainder as office space or some other use, raises not only a legal question, but also whether or not the town wishes to assume the responsibilities incumbent upon being a landlord.

While sympathetic toward arguments for having the buildings for investment in the future and protection for the town, under current economic conditions, it would take a lot more convincing before we would be in a position to look favorably upon purchase of the buildings involved in the particular properties.

Down the Years with The Townsman

75 Years Ago - August, 1900

The work of constructing the new buildings at the Tyer Rubber Co. is being pushed with all possible dispatch, a gang of bricklayers now working nights to finish the work.

From Kearsarge Village, N.H., comes the statement that Miss Edith Poor of Andover, is among the most successful golfers in the village.

A movement is on foot in North Andover for securing free postal delivery for the town. To attain this end would require a town office to become a substation of Lawrence.

Supt. of Streets Lovejoy would like to have all teamsters who trip their wagons on North Main street hill remove the rocks to the side of the road when completed. He may have to remove bushels of rocks daily due to such negligence.

Prof. George T. Eaton, Mrs. Eaton and family will embark on a bicycle trip to the White Mountains on Monday, going by way of North Woodstock.

50 Years Ago - August, 1925

The American Coach Company has been refused permission to run motorcoaches through Andover to Boston and return. The selectmen have also refused a petition of Puritan Coach Co. of Boston, to run buses between Shawsheen, Andover square and North Reading.

Residents along the Boston and Maine railroad in the vicinity of Essex street, have circulated a petition protesting the excessive use of the locomotive whistles in that area.

The Board of Public Works this week awarded a contract to the Andover Coal Co. to supply New River Coal to the pumping station on its low bid of $7.20 per gross ton.

Plans have been drawn and the work begun on the largest garage to be built in this area on Park street. It will be on the site of the Snow stables which burned a year ago. The new facility will house pleasure cars and have a first class auto repair shop.

Mr. and Mrs. H.W. Barnard and son Shirley, have registered at the Wentworth Hotel, Portsmouth, N.H. for the month of August.

25 Years Ago - August, 1950

West Andover residents in the area beyond Haggetts Pond have requested the selectmen to ask the postal authorities to transfer their service from the Lowell post office to the Andover post office.

In preparation of the opening of the Veterans Housing project, the Andover Housing Authority has appointed J. Edward Manning as maintenance man.

The Andover Handtub Association, with its "Atlantic," finished out of the running in the Class II muster competition in North Andover Saturday.

Estimated cost of new buildings authorized during July by the building inspector was $143,200 and for additions and alterations, $7,400.

Ballardvale residents appear before the selectmen protesting the low level of the Shawsheen river in their area, caused, they feel, by the dam operated by American Woolen Co.

10 Years Ago - August, 1965

Lawrence is unable to supply water to Andover in any sizeable quantity, but would respond to emergency needs, the selectmen are informed, as the water level of Haggetts continues to dwindle.

The 3-2 vote of rejecting the idea of combining the school and town administrative offices under one roof by the school committee is being checked out by the selectmen as to legality.

The section of Route 93 from Roosevelt Circle, Merrimack to the bridge over the Merrimack in Andover is being tested to determine if the highway speed should be increased from 60 to 65 miles per hour.

The selectmen have authorized the town manager to set up a council for the spring for Andover, in order to become eligible for federal and state funding.

Olivier Chapuis from Monteliemar, France, is spending six weeks as a guest of the Joseph L. Dally's on Judson Road.

Where Are The Turkish Baths

While the weather this summer has been Turkish bath in nature, apparently Andover once had such facilities, or at least such were contemplated using some special waters from Ballardvale.

Cleaned from our pages 50 years ago is the following news item.

The Lowell Citizen says: "Faye Village, Andover, has a philanthropist in the person of Paul Hannigan. It was he who discovered the lithia water at Ballardvale, and now he proposes to erect baths that will eclipse the baths of the Toman ladies. These baths are to be Turkish in character, and are to be fitted with every luxury. There is also to be a swimming bath and the Townsman, rightly opines that Andover will be a very clean town when the baths are ready. It will certainly if the people have money enough."

WEEKLY SPECIAL

by Jack Anderson
with Joe Spear

WASHINGTON -- A massive, backstage lobbying effort by President Ford, Secretary of State Henry Kissinger and CIA director William Colby failed to persuade Congress to restore arms aid to Turkey.

And they have no one to blame but themselves. For behind the scenes, congressional leaders gave the Administration every possible chance to avoid the embarrassing vote.

The problem began more than a year ago when the Turks used U.S.-supplied weapons to overrun Cyprus. This was a violation of American law. So last February Congress voted to embargo arms shipments to Turkey.

Ford and Kissinger mounted a major lobbying effort to reverse the vote. Hundreds of congressmen were invited to breakfast at the White House. Others were asked to have "Cocktails with Henry."

CIA director William Colby was dispatched to Capitol Hill with armloads of secret documents to demonstrate that our intelligence bases in Turkey were crucial to national security.

Colby showed key congressmen photos of Soviet ships steaming through the Bosphorus Straits. The pictures were an example, he said, of the vital information gleaned by the intelligence installations.

But all the arm-twisting was for naught. The House soundly defeated a measure which would have reopened the arms assistance pipeline to Ankara. The Turks subsequently announced they were taking control of the two dozen military and intelligence bases in their country.

This might have been avoided if President Ford and Secretary of State Kissinger had been willing to get tough with the Turks.

Congressmen Ben Rosenthal, D.-N.Y., John Brademas, D.-Ind., and Paul Sarbanes, D.-Md., met repeatedly with Ford and Kissinger to urge them to extract a sign from the Turks that they were willing to negotiate for a Cyprus solution.

The lawmakers even indicated that they were willing to accept private assurance from the Ankara government.

For months, however, Ford and Kissinger stubbornly assured the Turks they could convince Congress to renew the arms flow.

When they finally realized they could not deliver on their promise, it was too late.

DECONTROL FALLOUT: The game of political "chicken" that President Ford and Congress have been playing over oil prices is ending in a head-on collision. And the gas-buying public is the loser.

It now appears that oil prices will be decontrolled at the end of August. This means a drastic jump in the price of a gallon of gas.

The end of the allocation law will also allow the major oil companies to squeeze out independent dealers. The giants can cut off the gas supply to the cut-rate stations or simply underprice them until they go out of business.

Two or three companies also will be able to consolidate their stations in one geographic area, and share the market. They simply pull out of other areas, reducing the competition. Gulf and Arco, for example, are expected to pull out of the Midwest and concentrate on the East Coast. While Phillips leaves the East Coast and Amoco leaves the West in favor of the Midwest.

The end of controls, therefore, will do more than raise prices this year. It will make the industry even more concentrated, and assure higher prices for years to come.

FUN IN THE SUN: The summer junketing season has just opened. Here is a report on where your congressmen will spend their August vacations.

-- Twenty-one congressmen and their aides are flying to Taiwan at the expense of a mysterious foundation. The junketeers may be violating the law because the trip apparently is underwritten, indirectly, by the Nationalist Chinese Government.

-- Similarly, mainland China is hosting a delegation of four senators and three congressmen. The legislators will tour China for two weeks.

-- House Speaker Carl Albert is leading another group of almost two dozen congressmen to Russia, Yugoslavia and Romania.

-- The House Armed Services Committee is sending groups to Micronesia and Guam, as well as to the Caribbean and the Panama Canal Zone.

Still other senators and congressmen are on the move throughout Europe, Asia and Africa. The taxpayers, of course, foot the bill for most of the travel.

WASHINGTON WHIRL:

President Ford's plan to campaign against the big spenders in Congress is being felt on Capitol Hill now. The President's men are taking a hands-off attitude on spending legislation. Rather than hammering out a compromise proposal in Congress, the Republicans are letting the expensive bills go through for President Ford to veto. In 1976, he can point to his veto record as proof of his commitment to hold the line on spending.

Not all lobbyists are highly paid minions of the special interests. Sen. Walter Mondale, D.-Minn., was recently buttonholed by a deliveryman on an elevator. Battling Bella Abzug, D.-N.Y., is getting a taste of her own medicine these days. Known for her acid tongue, Rep. Abzug is on the receiving end of some caustic comments from colleagues concerning her run for the Senate.

The partisan fight over who will represent New Hampshire in the Senate has frayed some long-standing bipartisan friendships. The result may be less cooperation between the parties on the Senate side of the Capitol.

ANDOVER BOARD OF HEALTH

Rules and Regulations

for

Subsurface Sewage Disposal Systems

AUGUST 14, 1975

The Board of Health of the Town of Andover, acting under the authority of Section 31 of Chapter III of the General Laws and amendments and additions thereto, and by any other power thereto enabling and acting thereunder and in accordance therewith have, in the interest of and for the preservation of the public health, duly made and adopted the following regulation:

SECTION I — GENERAL REQUIREMENTS

A. Massachusetts Department of Public Health Sanitary Code

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Department of Public Health Sanitary Code — Article XI entitled, "Minimum Requirements for the Disposal of Sanitary Sewage in Unsewered Areas" shall be considered a minimum standard to be used in the design and preparation of plans in the Town of Andover.

These regulations are written as a further clarification of the rules and regulations for subsurface sewage disposal in unsewered areas. Whenever there are differences in requirements between Article XI and the Town of Andover regulations, the Town of Andover regulations shall control.

B. Definitions (Not Listed in Article XI)

1. Alteration: Alteration shall mean any change or modification of an existing subsurface sewage disposal system that would change its physical make-up or location from that initially constructed or designed.
2. Approving Authority: The approving authority is the Board of Health of the Town of Andover.
3. Impervious Material: Soils having a percolation rate greater than 20 minutes per inch drop and including but not limited to ledge, hardpan, peat, loam and organic matter (See Regulation 14 of Article XI of Massachusetts State Sanitary Code).
4. Repair: Repair shall mean any restoration or reconstruction or change or partial replacement to an existing subsurface sewage disposal system that would not change its physical makeup or location from that initially constructed, and shall include but not be limited to the following: the pumping and/or cleaning of septic tanks, distribution boxes, dosing tanks, distribution lines and other lines connecting septic tanks, pits and/or distribution field lines.

C. General Requirements

Sewage Disposal Systems and Public Sewers. The owner or other person or persons having control of any existing building or buildings hereafter erected or converted into a dwelling to be occupied by one or more families, and from which a public sewer is accessible, shall, in a manner and within a period of time satisfactory to the Board of Health, cause such building to be connected with such public sewer. If public sewer is not available, then a properly designed sewage disposal system meeting all requirements of the Andover Board of Health must be provided.

The owner or other person or persons having control of any existing building or buildings hereafter erected or converted into one or more stores or other places of business, and in which one or more persons are employed, shall provide sufficient toilet facilities, and wherever a public sewer is accessible, shall in a manner and within a period of time satisfactory to the Board of Health, cause such stores or other places of business to be connected with such public sewer. If public sewer is not available, a properly designed sewage disposal system meeting all the requirements of Town of Andover Board of Health must be provided.

D. Licenses and Applications

1. General Requirements, Install, Construct, Alter
  - a. No person shall install, construct, or alter a subsurface sewage disposal system without first obtaining a disposal works installers license from the Andover Board of Health. Applicants for license must obtain a satisfactory passing grade on an examination administered by the Andover Board of Health.
  - b. No building permit shall be issued until the Board of Health has approved the proposed lot as suitable from a sanitary point of view. No building permit shall be issued until a Disposal Works Construction License or a Sewer Connection License has first been obtained from the Board of Health.
  - c. No individual subsurface sewage disposal system shall be installed, constructed, or altered until a Disposal Works Installation License has been issued by the Andover Board of Health.
  - d. No person shall pump tanks without first obtaining a license from the Board of Health to Remove, Transport and Dispose of Garbage, Offal or Other Offensive Substances. This license shall not cover any other repair work nor any construction or alteration work as defined in this regulation.
  - e. No connection shall be made between a sanitary building drain and a public sewer until a Sewer Connection License has been obtained from the Board of Health. All such connections shall be inspected by the Board of Health Plumbing Inspector to preclude any potential pollution of the soil or ground water and to prevent the egress of vermin from the public sewers. This requirement shall cover alteration as well as new installations.

2. Term of License

- a. Disposal Works Installers License shall be as described on Page 7, Reg. 2.2 of Article XI of the Massachusetts Department of Public Health Sanitary Code. This license allows installers to perform sewage disposal work within the Town of Andover. License expires December 31, of each calendar year and is not transferable.
- b. Disposal Works Construction License

This license is issued to an owner or builder at the time his sewage disposal plans are approved by the Andover Board of Health. This license expires two years from the date of issue and is not transferable.
- c. Disposal Works Installation License

This license is required for each individual subsurface sewage disposal system at the time of installation. This license expires upon completion of the work or 6 months from date of issue, whichever comes first. No disposal systems shall be constructed during the months of December, January, February or March, unless prior approval is obtained from the Andover Board of Health. This applies to alterations as well as new construction.
- d. License to Remove, Transport and Dispose of Garbage, Offal or Other Offensive Substances. This license expires at the end of each calendar year and is not transferable.
- e. Municipal Sewer Connection License

A License is required for each individual sewer connection prior to the time of installation. This license expires upon completion of the work or 12 months from the date of issue, whichever comes first. This license is not transferable.

3. Suspension and Revocation of Licenses

Disposal Works Construction Licenses may be immediately revoked or temporarily suspended if any conditions (including building structure locations and grades) set forth on the approved plans and specifications have changed prior to or during actual construction of the subsurface sewage disposal system.

Other licenses may be revoked within ten (10) days of written notice or temporarily suspended should the holder of the license fail to meet any of the applicable requirements of the Board of Health.

Licenses shall not be reinstated or reissued until all conditions for which they were revoked or suspended have been corrected, in accordance with the specific stipulations of the Board of Health.

4. Application and Fees

- a. Disposal Works Installers License ..... $ 5.00
- b. Disposal Works Construction License ..... $ 10.00
- c. Disposal Works Installation License ..... $ 10.00
- d. License to Remove, Transport and Dispose of Garbage, Offal or Other Offensive Substances ..... $ 5.00
- e. Sewer Connection License ..... $ 10.00
- f. Percolation Test Fees *
  1. Preliminary or Definitive Plan Stage ..... $100/day (Minimum Fee is $50/½ day or less.)
  2. Final sewage disposal system ..... $25.00/lot

* (Fee must be paid 24 hours prior to the testing date)

E. Requirements and Qualifications for Designers

Individuals who hold a registered professional engineer's license in Sanitary or Civil Engineering or a Registered Sanitarian Certificate and desire to engage in sanitary surveys, perform percolation tests, design leaching areas and/or other sanitary sewage disposal systems, determine maximum ground water elevations, or perform other work related to sewage disposal within the Town of Andover must submit a resume of their background and experience in such procedures to the Andover

Board of Health. Persons who fail to do so will not be recognized as qualified and their evaluations will have no standing with the Board.

F. Designers Certification

As Built Drawings and Certificate of Compliance.

1. The Designer shall perform as a minimum the following inspections to ensure that the sewage disposal system is constructed in strict accordance with the design plans.

a. After the foundation is set and before the disposal works system is installed, the designer shall mark the building drain invert location and elevation on the interior and/or exterior foundation wall at the point of exit, as per the plans approved by the Board of Health. Also, the leaching area shall be staked out to ensure that it is excavated in the correct location and elevation. If a system is to be built in a fill area, see Section 11F and IVA.

b. After excavation of the leaching area the excavation shall be inspected to ensure that it is at the correct depths and location.

c. Final inspection, when the tanks, etc. and piping are in place before backfilling to ensure that the system has been constructed at the correct elevations and also to ensure that the fill material and piping meet the specifications of the Town of Andover. (See Section IV.)

d. After all finish grading of lot to certify that finish grades are in accordance with approved plans.

e. The Andover Board of Health may request from the designer certification that all stone complies with Section IV C of these Regulations.

2. The Board of Health may inspect the installation of a sewage disposal system at any state of its construction, and to require necessary modifications if adverse conditions are encountered that were not found originally.

3. The applicant shall notify the sewage disposal system designer when the installation is ready for final inspection. The sewage disposal system designer and the authorized representative of the Andover Board of Health shall thereupon cause an inspection to be made within ninety-six (96) hours from receipt of notice that the installation is ready for final inspection. None of the components of the system shall be back-filled until a final passing inspection is completed by both the system designer and the authorized representative of the Andover Board of Health. The System designers shall notify the Andover Board of Health 72 hours prior to the date and time of the scheduled final inspection.

4. The system designer shall certify to the Andover Board of Health that the system constructed has been installed in strict accordance with the plans and specifications approved by the Board of Health. Such certification shall include the location and grades of all components of the system installed. The Andover Board of Health shall determine that material specifications have been met. The system designer shall present his certification to the Board of Health upon forms prescribed by the Board of Health within 48 hours following his inspection upon which certification is based. In the event an installation cannot be certified until alterations in the installation are made, the system designer shall immediately notify the Board of Health of the location of the system, the name of the installer or installing firm, the problem or problems encountered and the action necessary to remedy the problem or problems.

5. No person responsible for the installation or alteration of a sewage disposal system shall cause the system to be covered or backfilled until the system is inspected and approved by the designer and Andover Board of Health after the final inspection. After a system has passed the final inspection, covering shall be applied in a manner approved by the Board of Health.

6. As-built drawings shall be submitted to the Andover Board of Health by the Designer showing as-built location and grades of all components of the sewage disposal system. A certificate of Compliance shall be issued by the Andover Board of Health upon review of these plans as well as receipt of the designers' certificates for location and grades of all components of the sewage disposal system as well as certification for all finish grading.

7. Designers that do not follow the procedure set forth above under Section IF are subject to revocation of the privilege to design sewage disposal systems within the town of Andover.

G. Certification of Dimensions, Area, Location and Elevations of Lot, House, Foundation, Cellar and/or Disposal Works System

The Board of Health may require that a Disposal Works Construction License holder submit certified plans and specifications showing the exact lot dimensions and area, house location and size, cellar and/or foundation elevations, Disposal Works location, size and elevations at any stage during the construction of the house and/or Disposal Works system. Should any discrepancies be found to exist between the certified plans and specifications and the plans and specifications approved by the Board of Health, for which a Disposal Works Construction and/or Disposal works installation license was issued, all such licenses issued by the Board of Health may be immediately revoked or suspended. New licenses shall not be issued or reinstated until all of the conditions for which the licenses were revoked have been corrected, in accordance with the specific stipulations of the Board of Health.

SECTION II — Design and Construction Criteria

A. Plans and Specifications

Plans and specifications will not be reviewed for approval unless they are complete and include the following:

1. Four copies of all plans and specifications must be submitted to the Board of Health for review. Three copies will be retained by the Board of Health and one returned to the applicant once the plans have been approved. One of the three copies of the plans will be forwarded to the Building Inspector. All plans must be stamped by Registered Sanitarian or a Registered Professional Civil or Sanitary Engineer.

Plans will include the following:

- a. Town Map No., Town Lot No., subdivision Lot No. and street name.
  - b. A site plan
  - c. A locus plan
  - d. Detailed horizontal and elevation plans of the septic tank and distribution box.
2. A completed Design Criteria Sheet as specified by the Board of Health.
  3. All drawings, with the exception of industrial or institutional installations shall be a maximum of 8½ inches x 11 inches or capable of being folded exactly to 8½ inches x 11 inches (title on outside). Plans shall be drawn to scale (both horizontal and vertical). Drawings not to scale will not be approved.

4. Drawings shall show the following elevations and locations.

- a. Both ends of distribution lines;
- b. Bottom of the bed or trench;
- c. Septic tank inlet and outlet inverts;
- d. Distribution tank inlet and outlet inverts;
- e. Water table elevation with date;
- f. Cellar floor and cellar floor drains or footing drains and sills of proposed or existing house.
- g. Garage floor (if any);
- h. Invert of line at point it exits the foundation going to the septic tank. (This must be coordinated with Architectural plans.) Board of Health has the right to request Architectural drawings showing proposed plumbing layout. This invert and location at point of exit is critical and cannot be altered without prior approval from the Andover Board of Health.
- i. Streams, lakes, ponds, and swamps on or adjacent to the property (within 200') of the proposed Disposal Works System. It shall be noted if they do or do not contribute to a public water supply.
- j. Size, length and slope of all piping.

5. Drawings shall show the following distances:

- a. From septic tank, leaching and reserve areas to street storm drains or subsurface or cellar floor drains.
- b. From septic tank, leaching and reserve areas to property lines.
- c. From septic tank, leaching and reserve areas to edge of fill (where indicated) and grade to existing ground level.
- d. From two corners of house to manhole to the septic tank.
- e. From septic tank, leaching and reserve areas to edge of wetland stream or brook.

6. The Drawings shall also show the following:

- a. Bench Mark — United States Geodetic Base — Assumed base not allowed except with permission of the Andover Board of Health. Bench marks will be established at the site as well as the foundation of the closest existing dwelling. Sites within 1500 feet of a USGS Base must use the established USGS Base.

b. Specific location of buildings and principle topographical features. Locations of test pits and percolation tests shall also be shown.

c. Contour lines within a minimum radius of 100' of disposal area at two (2) foot intervals with corresponding elevations for existing and finish grades.

These contours must be by actual survey on the ground or accurate aerial topography. Enlarged Coast and Geodetic contour maps not accepted. Existing spot and elevations at lot corners, building set back line, and center line of roadway and ground elevation of test pits must be shown as a minimum on the plan. Elevation at the test pits shall be established at time of percolation test.

7. Profile and bed or trench section plans shall be submitted and drawn to scale. Profiles shall be shown on at least two opposing sections of the leach area. Existing and finish grades shall be shown on the profiles.

8. Distances — the location of the disposal facilities shall be such as to provide between it and the components listed in the following table not less than the distances stated:

- a. Ten (10) feet if constructed of durable corrosion, resistant material with watertight joints laid in Class B bedding. (See Section IV-d).
- b. It is suggested that disposal facilities be installed at least 10 (10) feet from and eighteen (18) inches below water supply lines. Wherever sewer lines must cross water supply lines, both pipes shall be constructed of mechanical joint cast iron pipe and should be pressure tested to assure watertightness.
- The State Department of Public Health has recommended that the building sewer line be separated from the water service pipe by at least ten (10) feet and that the water service pipe be laid at an elevation of at least eighteen (18) inches above the elevation of the building sewer line.
- *One hundred (100) feet is a minimum acceptable distance. The distance shall be increased where required by conditions peculiar to a location.

- a. Public surface or ground water supplies including reservoirs, open and subsurface drains as well as storm drainage on any tributary within the watershed or any storm drainage or tributary which drains to a public water supply watershed.
- b. Water courses, at the normal spring high water level, including any pond, stream, brook, tidal water, river, open or subsurface drains, or swamps.
- Swamps shall include bogs, swamps, wet meadows, or marshes, as defined in the current Wetlands Protection Act (General Laws of the Commonwealth).

Designated watershed areas can be obtained from the Andover Board of Health.

B. Building Sewer Detail

- The house sewer for single family dwelling shall be at least four (4) preferably six inches in diameter, constructed of sealed jointed cast iron pipe or Schedule 40 P.V.C. pipe to a septic tank. If Schedule 40 P.V.C. pipe is to be used, it must be run through a cast iron sleeve that has been sealed in the foundation wall and the sleeve shall be no less than five feet in length. Also, the area between the P.V.C. pipe and the cast iron sleeve shall be sealed with a rubber compound sufficient to prevent water drainage through the sleeve and into the cellar.
- The Board of Health does not advocate the installation of toilets in cellars or other areas where the invert of the line from the toilet is the same as or lower than the invert to the tank, at the upstream inlet. However, if necessary, any pot ejectors or equivalent will be acceptable as a means of discharging sewage from the toilet to the building drain.

C. Septic Tank Sizing

- The minimum liquid capacities of septic tanks installed or constructed in the Town of Andover shall be as follows: These shall be constructed of approved material preferably reinforced concrete.

Number of Bedrooms	Liquid Capacity (gals.)
4 or less	1000
each additional bedroom	add 250

- Fiberglass septic tanks are not approved for use in the Town of Andover.
- Cesspools are not approved for use in the Town of Andover.
- Sanitary tees are required on inlet and outlet of septic tank at dimensions set forth in Article XI of the Massachusetts Department of Public Health Sanitary Code. If baffles are included in the construction of the septic tank, the tank shall be modified so that cast iron sanitary tees on both inlet and outlet are provided.
- Temporary privy vaults or chemical toilets for the convenience of contractors or their employees may be erected or installed without a license, but only under the following conditions. The privy vault must be at least two feet in depth and must be so located as to cause no annoyance to persons residing in the vicinity. The owner, contractor or agent shall cause the contents thereof to be treated in a sanitary manner, and immediately upon completion of the contract, the contractor shall remove the privy, shall fill in the vault and leave the premises in a condition satisfactory to the Board of Health.
- No indoor toilet or water closet, except that which is provided with proper means of flushing with water at time of using, shall be hereafter installed on any premises in this town.
- Whenever a water closet, privy vault, septic tank, or drain becomes offensive or obstructed, the owner, agent or occupant of the premises shall cause same to be cleaned and made free or otherwise corrected.
- Every owner, occupant, or agent of premises in which there is any private sewer, drain, privy vault, septic tank, shall keep the same in a sanitary condition and shall have every privy vault, septic tank emptied and cleaned when necessary or at such time as ordered by the Board of Health. No privy vault, septic tank shall be emptied except by such parties and in such manner as shall be especially authorized by the Board of Health. If the owner or occupant fails to comply with such order, the Board may cause the nuisance, source of filth, or cause of sickness to be removed, and all expenses incurred thereby shall be paid by the person who caused or permitted same, if he has had actual notice from the Board of Health of the existence thereof.

D. Disposal Fields, Pits, Chambers and Trenches

- Minimum Leaching Area — The extent of leaching area required for each disposal field shall be determined in accordance with the results of percolation tests and with the estimated daily sewage flows as determined from Article XI of the Massachusetts Code, Regulation 2.11.
- Reserve Area — Additional area shall be reserved for expansion in an amount at least equal to the area of the proposed disposal system. This reserve area shall be located and graded in such a manner that it may readily be available for construction of a new leaching field without requiring pumping or excavation or filling at a later date. When expansion areas are proposed in locations at lower elevations than the proposed leach field, the designer shall indicate, on the plans, the proposed elevations of the invert of the lines and the bottom of the bed to be installed in the expansion area at a later date. The minimum distances between Disposal Fields and Reserve areas shall be:
  - Leach pits — 1.5 x the effective diameter of the pits
  - Galley Chambers — 1.5 x the effective diameter of the chambers
  - Trenches — 6 feet
  - Leach Beds and covered Leach Fields — None.
- Drainage — Disposal fields shall not be located in an area where surface water may accumulate. Provisions shall be made to divert all surface water flow away from the field.
- Leaching Beds and Ammeration Chambers — Leaching Beds and Ammeration Chambers may be installed only if the percolation rate is 10 minutes per inch or under and the minimum square footage of bed areas is broken down by bedroom as follows:

Bedrooms

4
6

Square Footage of Leaching Bed Area

600
800
1000
1200

- for each bedroom above 6, add 200 square feet of leaching bed or ammeration chamber area.
- Leaching Pits and Leaching Trenches — Leach pits and trenches may be installed whenever the percolation rate is 20 minutes per inch or less. The minimum square footage of area is to be calculated in accordance with Regulation III E of these regulations and shall be based only upon the bottom of the trench but shall include both bottom and sides in a seepage pit. Asphalt paper or approved equal shall be used to cover stone in leaching facilities.
  - The bottoms of all leaching beds, ammeration chamber beds, leaching pits and leaching trenches must be no less than four (4) feet above the highest ground water elevation.
  - Access manholes to all structures shall be raised to within four inches (4") of finished grade in all cases using a manhole extension of not less than three feet (3') in diameter with not less than a 2' diameter suitable tight fitting cast iron manhole cover and rim.
  - Stone and Cover Requirements —  $\frac{3}{4}$ " to 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ " stone,  $\frac{1}{2}$ "- $\frac{3}{4}$ " pea stone, asphalt paper and final cover shall be as follows:

	Trench Lines	Pits	Galley Chambers	Covered fields	Beds
$\frac{3}{4}$ "-1 $\frac{1}{2}$ " stone around (min)	20"-32"	12"	12"	12"	36"
$\frac{3}{4}$ "-1 $\frac{1}{2}$ " stone under (min)	6"	12"	0	0	6"
$\frac{1}{2}$ "- $\frac{3}{4}$ " stone cover (min)	2"	2"	2"	0	2"

$\frac{1}{4}$ " wire mesh on sides	No	No	No	Yes	No
Final Cover
Min	12"	12"	12"	12"	12"
Max	42"	42"	42"	42"	42"

E. Changes in Design

Relocation of Proposed Design.

Any proposed change in location or design of any component of a system from that originally approved by the Board of Health must be re-engineered and again submitted to the Board of Health for review and approval prior to the installation of a system.

Relocation of leaching area to another area of a lot for which properly witnessed percolation test data and water table levels have not been established will require that these tests be made of that area and that any plans to be submitted to the Board of Health for review must have been developed based upon the test data of the new area.

Plans and specifications of changes of design of a leaching area to be installed in the original location can be submitted for review and approval without developing new percolation test data. (i.e. change from beds to trench or trench to pits, etc.)

Plans and specifications of relocation of all other components of a system can be submitted for review and approval without developing new percolation test data.

F. Filled Area

- When disposal fields are constructed in a filled area, the filled area must also be extended to include the proposed expansion area. The filled area must extend 25 feet level in every direction beyond the limits of the disposal field and expansion area, and then slope at a maximum of 10 horizontal to 1 vertical to the original ground. Alternatively the fill must extend 50 feet level in every direction beyond the limits of the disposal field and then slope at not more than 3 horizontal to 1 vertical to the original ground. The finish grade 25' from proposed bed pit or trench shall not be less than the invert elevation at the proposed distribution box.
- Where impervious material is underlain by a minimum of four feet pervious soil, the impervious material may be replaced with clean fill as described in Section IV A. The conclusion that the underlying soil is pervious must be reached by performing a percolation test or by other methods approved by the Andover Board of Health.
- Minimum cover over the crown of distribution piping shall be 12" and the maximum cover over the crown of distribution piping shall not be greater than 42". The cover material shall be semi-impervious with no stones or boulders over 6" in diameter.

G. Dosing Pumps

Dosing Pumps for single family residence shall be allowed in the Town of Andover only by special permission of the Town of Andover Board of Health.

Pumps shall be sized according to the following regulations:

- Dosing rate shall be determined according to Article XI, Regulation 6 of the State Sanitary Code.
- Dosing Chamber shall be sized to store a minimum of one day's flow (24 hours) based on the design flow.
- Duplicate pumps shall be used in all cases.
- Pumps shall be designed to alternate and operate automatically.
- High water alarm shall be provided.
- Manufacturer's Guarantee — All pumps and equipment shall be guaranteed by the manufacturer for a minimum of one year.

H. Lot Grading

A detailed individual lot grading plan shall be submitted for review and approval on all lots on Subsurface Sewage Disposal Systems or on Town Sewer as required by the Andover Planning Board Rules and Regulations.

Lot grading plans shall show the following:

- existing and finish grades at all corners of the lot.
- existing and finish grades at all corners of the structure.
- existing and finish grades at the beginning and end of driveways and/or walks.
- Show the direction of flow of surface water through swales.

The Board of Health may require certification of final lot grades after grading is completed as well as a certified final lot grading plan. Such certification shall be legally acceptable and approved by a registered professional engineer or a registered land surveyor.

A. Percolation Procedure

Percolation tests as prescribed here shall be performed at no expense to the approving authority by a registered civil or sanitary engineer or registered sanitarian. These tests must also be performed in the presence of a representative of the Andover Board of Health.

Percolation tests shall be taken at the elevation of the proposed bottom of bed or trench, however, in no case less than 36" from the natural ground surface or in the topsoil and subsoil strata.

B. Engineering Requirements

Prior to percolation tests for design purposes, all lot boundaries shall be established and staked and a certified topography, as per Section No 3, shall be provided by the designer to the Board of Health.

C. Time of Testing

Percolation tests shall not be made in test holes that have remained open to the atmosphere for more than one day, nor shall they be made in frozen ground nor in ground that has snow cover.

Percolation tests shall not be made in filled ground unless the soil has been mechanically or hydraulically compacted or allowed to settle for a period of six months. Percolation tests must be performed in the natural original soil as well as in the fill material to assure the Andover Board of Health that Regulation 7.3 of Article XI of the State Sanitary Code has not been violated.

Percolation test data shall be valid only if obtained between April 1st through November 30th. Percolation tests and their data shall be updated after two (2) years from the date of testing. If methods or procedures are changed in the interim or if any grading or alteration has taken place on the lot, new tests will be required.

D. Number of Tests

Percolation test data shall reflect the following:

- Two (2) percolation tests and two (2) observation pits (for soil logs) on opposite ends of the proposed leach bed. Also at least one percolation test and one observation pit are to be made on the area reserved for expansion of the leach bed.

E. Soil Information and Ground Water-Determination

Two observation pits shall be opened for depth of at least four feet (4') below the bottom of the proposed leaching area but not less than eight feet (8') below existing grade. One pit to be located at each end of the proposed leaching area.

Should soil logs clearly indicate that the soil is gravel and/or coarse sand, only one percolation test pit may be required.

At least one observation pit shall be opened to a depth of eight feet (8') in the expansion area. The Board of Health may require additional test holes to be dug. Ground water determinations shall be made only during the months of March, April and May. Ground water determinations shall not be valid after one year. The maximum ground water table recorded over approved of successive years shall be used on the design of the system. Oxidation layers may be considered as an indicator of water table elevations.

F. Minimum Leaching Area Requirements for Leaching Pits and Trenches

The minimum leaching area to be installed shall be determined from the following table, with the estimated daily sewage flow.

Minutes Per Inch Drop	Per Gallon
2.0 or less	0.63
2.5	0.70
3.0	0.78
3.5	0.83
4.0	0.88
5.0	0.93
6.0	1.01
7.0	1.08
8.0	1.14
9.0	1.20
10.0	1.25
15.0	1.88
20.0	2.19
Over 20	Unsuitable

1. For minimum area for ammeration chamber, see Section II, D-3.
2. For minimum area for leaching bed, see Section II, D-3.
3. Whenever the percolation rate is over 10 minutes per inch, the use of leaching trenches is required because of the poor soil condition.
4. The above leaching trench or seepage pit area requirements are for settled sanitary domestic sewage. The area required for subsurface disposal of other wastes is to be determined on the merits of each individual case.
5. Soil with a percolation rate of over 20 minutes per inch is considered impervious and therefore unsuitable for the sub-surface disposal of sewage.

G. Subdivisions

Requirements on Filing for Approval of Board of Health. In order that the Board may properly evaluate the site condition in its determination as to whether or not lots of a proposed subdivision can be used for building sites without injury to the public health, the owner or developer of a proposed subdivision shall submit to the Board of Health plans and technical data as required in the following regulations. Such plans and technical data shall be filed as a part of the preliminary or definitive plan of the subdivision under Sections 81-0 and 81-U, or 81-S of Chapter 41 of the General Laws. All materials so required for the definitive plan shall be filed simultaneously with the Planning Board and by copy with the Board of Health.

1. Procedure for Review of Preliminary Plans of a Subdivision by the Board of Health.

The Board of Health shall review preliminary plans submitted to it by any person. It shall make such inspections as are necessary to evaluate such plans properly. Within 60 days after submission of a preliminary plan, the Board of Health shall approve such preliminary plan, with or without modifications suggested by it or agreed upon by the person submitting the plan, or shall disapprove such preliminary plan. In the case of disapproval, it shall state its reasons therefor. The Board of Health will require a site suitability study as part of the necessary pertinent information required. This study will include:

- a. A preliminary subdivision plan drawn to scale, properly dated and titled shall be submitted by the applicant. This plan shall include, location key, layout of streets, approximate dimensions and areas of each lot, location of proposed drainage as well as drain easements both surface and subsurface.
- b. Sources of private water supply.
- c. Location relative to public water supply water sheds.
- d. Location and elevation of percolation test pits and deep observation pits.
- e. Topographical Map, which should be superimposed on the plat, showing existing contours at 2 foot intervals, shall be submitted by the owner or developer of a proposed subdivision. It shall show the location of streams, ponds, swamps, existing or proposed open or subsurface land drains, outcroppings of ledge, and other topographical features needed to evaluate the site.
- f. A profile of the streets shall be submitted showing existing and proposed profiles, catch basins, manholes, slopes of all storm drains and sanitary sewers.
- g. The owner or developer of a proposed subdivision shall submit the results of percolation tests performed in accordance with the provisions of Regulation 14 of Article XI of the Sanitary Code. The number and location of percolation and deep test pits shall be sufficient for the design engineer to evaluate the suitability of the site for subsurface sewage disposal. As a recommended guide, the minimum number of tests for preliminary approval should be approximately one test per every 3 to 5 acres. If poor soil conditions prevail (over 15 min/inch) a test on each proposed lot is strongly recommended. The number and location of tests may be varied at the discretion of the Board of Health due to peculiar soil conditions present on a certain tract of land.
- h. The design engineer shall submit an overlay showing various zones of soil and indicate the approximate percolation rate, depth to ground water, etc. in each zone. The design engineer shall state his opinion of the suitability of the site for subsurface sewage disposal with any conditions or exceptions stated.

The submission of a preliminary plan is strongly recommended. Such submission affords the applicant the opportunity to have the Board view his proposed subdivision before expenditure of time and money for more detailed engineering plans. Also, submission of preliminary plans will enable the applicant to ascertain requirements and specifications for subdivision approval.

The Board may require for approval of a Preliminary Plan, the same technical data required for approval of a Definitive Plan.

2. Definitive Plans.

Notice to Town Clerk — The applicant shall give written notice to the Town Clerk, by delivery or by registered mail, postage prepaid, that he has submitted the Definitive Plan to the Board of Health. Such notice shall be accompanied by a copy of the application and shall describe the land to which the plan relates, sufficiently for identification and shall state the name and address of the owner (s) and subdivider and the date such plan was submitted.

Submission — Any person who submits a Definitive Plan of a subdivision to the Planning Board for approval shall, at the same time, file with the Board of Health the following: Two white prints of the proposed Definitive Subdivision Plan, prepared as prescribed under the Andover Planning Board's Subdivision Rules and Regulations. These shall also show the dates, elevations and locations of all percolation and observation test pits.

Technical Data

a. Results of percolation tests on each lot performed in accordance with all the Provisions of Article XI of the Massachusetts Sanitary Code. In addition, the Board of Health will require that percolation tests be performed in the presence of its Director or Agent.

- b. Detail log of soil to a depth of four (4) feet below the bottom of the proposed leaching facilities, and in no instance less than eight (8) feet below the ground surface.
  - c. Elevations of the maximum ground water table on each lot, if encountered within four feet of the bottom of the proposed leaching facility.
  - d. Location of private water supplies within one hundred feet (100') of the proposed subdivision.
  - e. Location and source of public water supplies within five hundred feet (500') of the proposed subdivision.
  - f. Location of subsurface drainage and lot grading as required in the Town of Andover Planning Board Regulations to be submitted by the design engineer.
  - g. An evaluation by the sanitarian or engineer as to the suitability of each lot within the subdivision for the subsurface disposal of sewage.
  - h. Topography at two foot (2') contour intervals showing present contours superimposed on plot plan. Areas which will be cut below the topsoil-subsoil strata must show proposed finish grade and be shaded to be clearly identified.
  - i. Location of all building and street drains and appurtenances.
  - j. Location of proposed area or areas for sewage disposal shall be shown on the plan.
- The Definitive Plan shall not be deemed to have been submitted to the Board until the application, prints, and technical data listed above have been delivered to the Board of Health office and are fully completed in accordance with these rules and regulations, and other pertinent statutes.

Approval or Disapproval

The Definitive Plan will be studied and the land shown thereon examined to determine which, if any, of the lots or the areas of land shown on the plan cannot be used for building sites without injury to the public health. Within forty-five (45) days after the plan is filed with the Board, it shall report to the Planning Board in writing, approval or disapproval of said plan, and in event of disapproval shall make specific findings as to which, if any, of the lots cannot be used for building sites without injury to the public health, and include in such report specific findings and reasons therefor, and where possible, shall make recommendations for the adjustment thereof. Failure to so report shall be deemed approval by the Board of Health. A copy of such report, if any, shall be sent to the person who submitted said plan.

It is strongly recommended by the Board of Health that percolation and deep test pits be conducted on each lot at the time of Definitive Plan submission. No lot can be approved by the Board without a suitable percolation and deep test pit. If the applicant elects to not conduct percolation and deep test pits on each lot, it will result in either a conditional approval or disapproval of the lot due to lack of sufficient information. Any applicant electing not to test each lot at definitive submission does so at his own peril. If the lot is found unsuitable at a future date as a result of additional percolation test and deep test pit, no exceptions will be considered. It behooves the applicant to determine the lot suitability at the preliminary and definitive stage of development.

3. Recommended Percolation and Deep Test Pits for Proposed Subdivision. Subdivisions will be reviewed in three stages, preliminary, definitive and final design.

- a. All test holes and percolation tests for definitive subdivision plan approval or design of system to be witnessed by a representative of the Andover Board of Health.
- b. Results of tests may be used in the design of sewage disposal system provided the test results are accurately located within the proposed leaching area and observed by the Andover Board of Health.
- c. Preliminary Stage — Preliminary test pits and percolation tests, if not conforming to Regulation III-F, 3-a & b above, are not to be considered for definitive subdivision approval stage or final design stage. The preliminary subdivision plan will be reviewed in the field in a general manner by a representative of the Andover Board of Health. This should not be construed to mean that the Andover Board of Health will witness every test hole. If test holes or percolation tests are to be reviewed, then the guidelines of Definitive Stage will be followed.
- d. Definitive Stage — Review for subdivision approval at least one percolation test and one deep test pit is recommended on each lot in the area to be considered reserved for the subsurface sewage disposal system. If at a later date it is found that the test hole or percolation test is not located within the bed area, then it will not be considered as one of the required tests under the design phase. All tests must be witnessed by a representative of the Andover Board of Health. The Andover Board of Health reserves the right to request additional tests on each lot during the Definitive Stage.
- e. Design State — Percolation tests as described in Section III A.B.C.D.

SECTION IV — SPECIAL CONDITIONS

A. Specification for Fill Material

All fill material, topsoil, subsoil, existing leaching bed stone and sealed soil within the proposed leaching areas to be removed down to the suitable material. Gravel refill for the leaching area shall be bank run gravel having an excellent undisturbed percolation rate of less than two minutes per inch. The fill material shall conform to the following gradation (State Standards):

Sieve Size	Percent Passing by Weight
6"	100
1/2	90-100
No. 4	80-95
No. 10	70-85
No. 16	60-80
No. 40	30-45
No. 100	5-10
No. 200	0-5

Uniformity coefficient — Less than 4.0, effective size between 0.3 to 0.5.

Hanscom AFB Fourth Largest State 'Firm'

Hanscom Air Force Base, in terms of economic impact, is ranked the 15th largest "manufacturing firm" in New England, the fourth largest in Massachusetts, in a study directed by The First National Bank of Boston.

Describing Hanscom as a high-technology business research firm rather than a typical Air Force base, the bank's Business Research Department measured Hanscom on the basis of its operating expenditures, including purchased services and sales, which amounted to $669.4 million in fiscal year 1974.

Specifically, the study examined contracts to companies in the region, its payroll and procurement expenditures and its job creation in areas of high unemployment. Additionally, Hanscom contributes research and development expenditures to educational institutions in Massachusetts and to new businesses.

Commenting on the report, Dr. James M. Howell, senior vice president and chief economist of the bank, said New England's share of development and production subcontracts totaled more than $100 million in 1974, $100.6 million of it to firms in Connecticut, $2.9 million to those in Massachusetts and $600,000 to New Hampshire companies.

In Massachusetts, the contracts were worth $370,000 for research and development and $2.6 million for production items. Nine companies in the state are benefiting from these subcontracts, Howell disclosed.

In the jobs sector, Hanscom "employs directly 1,750 military personnel and 2,827 civilian personnel," the report states. "In total, this represents a combined employment of 4,577 and an annual payroll of $80.8 million. These two categories of employees have a different impact on Massachusetts economy. If it were not for Hanscom AFB, these civilian employees would have need of other jobs, not easy to find in a state with an unacceptably high unemployment rate."

The study also showed the multiplied effects created when civilians or military personnel spend a large part of their paychecks in Massachusetts and put savings in Massachusetts banks. Howell observed that "these expenditures and savings create added jobs as stores, restaurants, banks and other businesses spring up to supply services for these employees."

The $80 million 1974 payroll, for example, was expected to induce favorable secondary multiplied effects of another $100 million, the report noted.

The study drew the same conclusion in terms of the positive communitywide secondary effects in regard to Hanscom's procurement expenditures. By giving contracts to companies in New England, Hanscom indirectly contributes to the payrolls of other companies, hence, creating other jobs in the region. In fiscal year 1974, procurement expenditures of $231.2 million were made to Massachusetts firms alone, according to the study.

Howell emphasized the suitability of Hanscom's type of industry to the economic environment of Massachusetts in satisfying such qualifications as production of a high value-added product with capital-intensive techniques and use of an experienced, well-educated labor force. "As a large, multiproduct electronics research firm, Hanscom fulfills all these requirements," he contended.

The report noted that in addition to direct and indirect payments and employment opportunities, Hanscom's electronics research "has led to the creation of a number of firms which have later entered the private sector."

Vegetable Show Is Scheduled

Amateur vegetable gardeners all over Massachusetts are invited to exhibit their produce in a special Vegetable Show, to be held at Horticultural Hall in Boston, Spet. 4-6.

The show, which will be open to the general public at no charge, is sponsored by the Mass. Horticultural Society, the Suffolk County 4-H program, Boston Department of Public Facilities and the Boston Parks & Recreation Department.

Anyone interested in exhibiting vegetables they have grown should send a self-addressed, business-size envelope to: Vegetable Show, Mass. Horticultural Society, 300 Mass. Ave., Boston, MA 02115.

A complete schedule of exhibition classes and rules will be sent to anyone interested in entering.

Exhibitors will be divided into four main categories - juniors, under 9 years old; youths, from 9 to 19 years; adults, from 19 to 65; and seniors, over 65.

A distinguished panel of experts will judge the show and make awards for the best in each class, and best of each division.

Memorial Hall Library

Large Print Books Available

If you have visual problems, but enjoy reading, the library may have just what you're looking for - Large Print Books. These books have type twice the size as in the standard editions. The library has a varied selection, both current best sellers and the classics, fiction and non-fiction. Twenty new titles have recently arrived including The Bermuda Triangle by Charles Berlitz, Rex: An Autobiography by Rex Harrison, The House Of A Thousand Lanterns by Victoria Holt, Ah-one, Ah-two by Lawrence Welk, Harlequin by Morris West, Lady by Thomas Tryon, and Strictly Speaking by Edwin Newman. Why don't you come in and see if there's anything you like?

Children's Room News

By Ruth Hooten
The countdown is on - only a matter of weeks till school starts. Summer vacation is almost over and so are most of the summer programs in the Children's Room. But for those interested, there are still a few things left to do.

The Yellow Balloon will continue for the rest of August. There is no registration required and preschoolers age 3 1/2 - 5 years can drop in (with parents) Tuesday at 10 a.m. for stories and games.

Good News. The Laura Ingalls Wilder Club will continue its meetings through September. So if you haven't joined yet, there's still time. In September we'll have a club party and maybe even a quilting bee.

There's only another two weeks left for the Summer Reading Club but new members are welcome. You still have time to read enough books to be able to come to our party in September.

Preventative Measure For Food

If you are planning picnics, barbecues or meals to travel for a weekend, a few preventative measures will keep foods safe from bacteria organisms that can cause food poisoning, reminds the Massachusetts Department of Agriculture.

The bacteria organisms need only the right combination of time, temperature and moisture to grow and that is why meals kept too long without adequate refrigeration during the warm weather, can create problems.

Food borne illness is sometimes mistaken for a simple virus, but it can cause stomach cramps, headache, diarrhea and other unpleasant symptoms which can last for several hours or even days. The results can also be more severe for young children and the elderly.

Preventive measures begin at the supermarket. Buy meat, poultry and frozen foods last so they can be kept as cold as possible, and get them home quickly, and into the refrigerator and freezer.

When preparing food, don't let bacteria spread from one food to another by improper handling. For example; after cutting up raw chicken, you should wash both the cutting board and your hands with hot water and soap before cutting up cooked potatoes for salad. Otherwise, the potato salad carried to a picnic on a hot day will invite bacteria growth.

Plan meals to travel with as few perishable foods as possible, but carry those that are, in insulated bags or chests with ice, dry ice or reusable cold packs.

Perishable foods such as cream pies, seafoods, dishes made with eggs, fish, meat or poultry should not stand at room temperature more than two hours.

Remember that bacteria grows best in lukewarm foods. At home, as soon as the meal is over, any leftovers should be refrigerated in small or shallow containers so they will cool quickly.

Following these simple guide lines will insure safe and wholesome meals through the summer months.

Bean Supper

Court St. Monica, Catholic Daughters of America, will hold a card party and bean supper, Saturday, Aug. 23, at the home of Mrs. Sam Malendrinio, Brook Street, Andover. The card party will begin at 2 p.m. and the supper will be served at 6 p.m.

Sturgill - Selden

Mrs. Thomas W. Sturgill

Ruth Ryley Selden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Kirtland Selden, 40 School Street, Andover, became the bride Saturday of Thomas Wayne Sturgill of Charlottesville, Virginia.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Blaine Sturgill of The Pound, Va.

Christ Church, Andover, was decorated in mixed white summer flowers for the 9 a.m. marriage performed by the Rev. J. Edison Pike.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a French gown of white silk organza appliqued with leaves and flowers. She wore a cap of roses and forget-me-nots and carried a hand-painted Edwardian fan trimmed with a spray of roses.

Mrs. Strudwick Nash Norfleet of Tarboro, North Carolina, served as matron of honor, wearing a sheer light blue gown edged with white lace marguerites. She carried a nosegay of pink flowers.

Mrs. Selden chose an embroidered white linen gown for her daughter's wedding, and the groom's mother wore a crepe gown of robin's egg blue.

Dr. Rodney Biltonen of Charlottesville served as best man, and ushers included Donald Blaine Sturgill of The Pound, Va.; Ronald Edward Swindall, Norton, Va.; Charles Pierce Gabeler, McLean, Va.; and George Lord Selden, New York City.

A wedding breakfast followed the ceremony in the garden of the bride's parents, and the couple left on a fishing trip to Northern New Hampshire. They will be making their home in Charlottesville, Va.

The new Mrs. Sturgill attended Westover School in Middlebury, Conn., and Hollins College in Hollins, Va. She spent a year of college study in Paris, France, and holds a master's degree in architectural history from the University of Virginia in Charlottesville. She has recently been a research assistant for the Division for Historic Preservation in the New York State Office of Parks and Reservations in Albany.

Her husband graduated with highest distinction from the University of Virginia in 1971. He is completing his doctoral studies in medicine and pharmacology at the University of Virginia. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, the Society and Lychnos Society.

August Exhibits

An exhibit of shells collected by James and Elize Pettine is on view during August in the Children's Room Exhibit Case of Stevens Memorial Library, North Andover.

Wood carvings of native birds done by Col. Edward Hooper are exhibited in the adult area.

Sideburns get their name from civil war General Burnside, who had quite a pair.

Withington - Berube

Mrs. Michael J. Withington

served as best man and ushers included Raymond Jensen of Westminster; Lee Wain of Lunenburg; and Andrew and Robert Withington, brothers of the groom.

Mrs. Berube chose a sleeveless ensemble of pale sea foam aqua in beaded peau and chiffon for her daughter's wedding, while Mrs. Withington wore a green and yellow floral ensemble in chiffon. The groom's grandmother, Mrs. Matilda Bangrazi, wore a gown of mint green lace.

A reception followed the ceremony at DiBurro's Restaurant, Bradford, and the couple left on a honeymoon trip to Bermuda.

The new Mrs. Withington attended Andover High School and the Andover Institute of Business, and is employed as a secretary with the Internal Revenue Service.

Her husband attended Lunenburg High School and Lowell Technological Institute, and is vice-president of Withington Scrap Metal Company.

They plan to make their home in Andover.

Beverly Ann Berube, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon F. Berube, 2 Hawthorne Circle, Andover, became the bride August 3, of Michael Joseph Withington. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Withington of Lunenburg.

The Rev. James McEnrue performed the 3:30 p.m. service at the Sacred Heart Church, Lawrence, before an altar decorated with yellow and white gladiolas and mums.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a princess gown of sheer organza, enhanced by garlands and motifs of Venice lace, and featuring a high neck, trumpet sleeves, cathedral train, and matching full-length mantilla. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow and white sweetheart roses and baby's breath.

Susan Berube attended her sister as maid of honor, wearing an A-line gown in yellow jersey, with matching capelet and hood. She carried a colonial bouquet of white daisies and baby's breath.

Similarly attired were the bridesmaids, Paula Berube, the bride's sister; Susan Elward of Andover; Elizabeth Godek of Pelham, N.H.; and Ann Marie Withington, the groom's sister.

Jakes - Kahn

Mrs. Robert C. Jakes

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Chester Jakes were married Sunday in a 6:30 p.m. service overlooking the ocean in Rumson, New Jersey.

The bride is the former Margo Lee Kahn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest O. Kahn of Rumson, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Chester Jakes, Jr., of Andover.

The Hon. Daniel Kruman, mayor of Deal, N.J., performed the marriage on a canopied terrace at the Navesirk Country Club, and a reception followed at the club.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an empire gown of imported silk organza and peau de soie, with full train and long illusion veil. She carried a bouquet of white gardenias and roses.

Miss Elizabeth Hemblin of Rumson was maid of honor, wearing a gown of yellow voile and carrying orangetone roses. Elizabeth Jakes of Andover, the groom's sister, served as junior bridesmaid, wearing a gingham gown of yellow and white organza. She carried a basket of yellow sweetheart roses and miniature orangetone carnations.

Todd Ernest Thompson of Rumson was best man for the groom, and ushers included Frank Lawrence and C. Randall Hogg, also of Rumson.

The new Mrs. Jakes attended Northwestern University and will be a senior this fall at the University of Wisconsin, Madison, where she also plans to enter the Graduate School of Fine Arts.

Her husband attended Colorado College, and graduated in June from the University of Wisconsin School of Business. He is a customer services representative for Management Data Systems, Inc., in Madison.

Following a wedding trip to the Midwest, the couple will be at home in Madison.

Zucchini Abundant, Reasonable

Native zucchini squash is abundant and reasonably priced, and there are many uses for this versatile vegetable, suggests the Mass. Department of Food and Agriculture.

A good example is the delectable zucchini quiche judged First Prize Winner in the July Recipe Contest sponsored by the Department and the New England Vegetable Growers Association.

The baked main dish featuring eggs, Swiss cheese, diced zucchini and mushrooms won $50. for Susan Cheney of Northampton.

Pennsylvania Dutch cabbage earned second honors (and $25.) for Mrs. John Donohue of Rockland; third prize ($15.) went to Mrs. Jocelyn von Riesen of Springfield for her recipe featuring fresh beets, sour cream and horseradish — served warm or chilled.

Copley Portrait Acquired

The Boston Museum of Fine Arts has acquired a Portrait of Dorothy Quincy by the 18th century American master, John Singleton Copley (1738-1815).

This portrait of the young lady who later became Massachusetts Governor John Hancock's wife has been on view in the Boston Museum since its loan from a private collection in 1896. It has become part of the Museum's permanent collection which includes over sixty Copley paintings. The portrait was acquired through a partial gift of Anne B. Loring and the Charles H. Bayley Fund.

The oil on canvas measures 50 by 39 inches, is undated, and unsigned. It has been placed around 1772 because of its close similarity to the style, pose, and costume of Copley's 1772 portrait of Dorothy Quincy's cousin, Dorothy Wendell Skinner.

The painting is a three-quarter view of Dorothy Quincy seated in a dark blue upholstered arm chair against a brown background. She is turned to her right, resting her right elbow on a mahogany table, her hand to her cheek. Her dress is a vivid pink, embellished with white lace. She also wears a delicate apron and a cap of lace-like mull. Textures, colors, clothing and furniture are represented with a realistic candor, characteristic of Copley's portraits of the early American aristocrats.

The painting is now undergoing restoration by the MFA's Conservator of Paintings, Elizabeth Jones. In this process Miss Jones has discovered the brilliant pink of the dress, and the pure white of the lace previously muddled with a green-toned varnish. It is thought that this darker varnish was applied to the painting about forty years ago, to tone down the vivid pink of the dress. Until this recent cleaning, the rich grains of the mahogany table were completely hidden, and the dark navy blue chair appeared to be brown. The face and figure are in remarkable condition, according to Miss Jones.

"Dolly" Quincy was the youngest of the large family of Edmund and Elizabeth Wendell Quincy. Although born in Boston, she spent most of her life before her marriage in Braintree. Tradition has it that she and the wealthy, young John Hancock had already planned their wedding when the threatening political developments of 1774 forced postponement. Their wedding took place August 28, 1775 during the first recess of the Continental Congress.

The Hancocks were leaders in the smart set in Massachusetts after the war. Their life was one of constant and extravagant entertaining, with Dorothy Quincy Hancock the perfect hostess, known for her generous hospitality and brilliant conversation. After Hancock's death in 1793, she lived in comparative quiet, married to Col. James Scott. After his death in 1809, she moved to Portsmouth, N. H., until she finally returned to Boston and resumed her role as a prominent hostess.

The Copley portrait will be included in the Boston Museum's major Bicentennial exhibition,

Decrease In Calls Concerns Police

Andover police this week have become somewhat concerned about the decreasing number of telephone calls to the station reporting suspicious activity in the community.

The amount of phone calls and requests for house checks increased substantially in July following reports of in excess of $100,000 in valuable silver and other items from Andover homes since the first of the year.

With the decreasing in housebreaks due to the vigilance and the increased police patrols, apparently residents have felt the problem has left.

Not so, however, according to Patrolman Donald Mooers of the Andover police detective division.

"Just because there has been a decrease in the amount of large housebreaks, doesn't mean the problem has gone away by any means," Mooers said this week, noting that the number of calls had begun to taper off.

He said the action of the townspeople is normal.

The initial impact brings great results and there are a lot of calls. "Then there is a decrease in the breaks and it's natural to figure the activity has subsided and the work is over. But that's when things start to pop again," Mooers said.

Since the request for citizen assistance in reporting any suspicious activity began a month ago, police have checked out hundreds of reports. Whether the investigations have prevented breaks is not difficult to determine, but Andover police have gained some possible leads and in the process well could have discouraged a possible heist.

Increased patrols are still covering the town, both with uniformed officers and plain clothes personnel.

That the alerted citizenry response has been beneficial is indicated by the sharp decrease in the number of house breaks involving the theft of thousands of dollars in personal property.

There have been breaks investigated in the past week involving smaller items, some in apartments.

Good Buys

Current good buys in fresh produce as well as sweet corn, cucumbers, tomatoes and green beans are carrots, cabbage, Boston and iceberg lettuce, zucchini and yellow summer squash, celery, radishes, watermelon, peaches, plums and nectarines.

At meat and poultry counters, best values include beef livers, ground beef, beef chuck roasts and steaks, turkey parts and chicken livers.

In fish, there have been some good values in fresh cod and pollock; also canned tuna, frozen ocean perch and flounder fillets.

The Boston and Maine railroad is an excellent option if you're planning a day trip with the family to the North Shore but don't want to drive. Rush hour trains out of Boston are crowded but the mid-day trains have plenty of room. The mid-day schedules are a bit thin, as are the weekend schedules. It is advisable to check if there's a train back from where you are going. In Salem, the station is in the heart of the city near all the historic buildings and museums. In Rockport, the chances are you'll be as close to Bearskin Neck getting off the train as you would parking your car. In Gloucester, you'll be about a 10 minute walk from its waterfront. Call (617) 227-5070 for passenger train schedules

Bureau Warns Against Illegal Job Schemes

With jobs becoming more difficult to find and unemployment facing thousands of workers, unethical and often illegal employment opportunity schemes are being used to prey upon desperate people.

Better Business Bureaus throughout the country have noted an increase in the number of such promotions, including the following:

Resume Mills

"How would you like a well-paying job overseas? No skills or language ability needed. Contact.

The Better Business Bureau of Eastern Massachusetts reports that several firms are currently advertising in local newspapers offering what appear to be jobs. Job seekers quickly learn that these firms are not offering employment, but are selling a service which principally consists of preparing a resume and mailing it to a list of "contacts" who have overseas operations. The fees charged for these "services" range over $200.

Consumers report that the contracts for these services do not guarantee employment, but merely guarantee that the companies will continue to mail out resumes if no job offers materialize. These companies are not employment agencies in the usual sense and are not licensed as such.

BBBs have contacted a large number of firms who have overseas operations. These companies indicate that many nations severely restrict the number of foreigners allowed to come in and work, and have rules requiring that native citizens be hired, if at all possible. Other firms stated that they prefer to send personnel overseas who have had some years of experience with their firms. The majority of companies contacted stated they give little or no consideration to "boiler plate" resumes.

Work At Home Schemes

One of the oldest, and most lucrative, of the employment schemes is the "work at home pitch." Literally hundreds of promoters are continually advertising for persons who wish to make money at home in their spare time. In the majority of instances, these firms are not offering employment, but are selling instructions on how to go about obtaining employment.

"A good rule of thumb to follow is to quickly forget a home work ad which asks the would-be home worker to send money," Leonard L. Sanders, President of the BBB/Eastern Massachusetts, declared. "Such schemes prey upon the elderly, disabled, and the unemployed principally. In other words, those who can least afford to get gypped."

Consumers report that most of the firms follow a practice of not asking for money in the advertisements, but do so in the first response to the home-worker's letter of inquiry. Usually this money is for "sincerity" or for "processing."

Another variation of this scheme is to advertise for persons to make such articles as baby booties, bracelets, garments of various types, etc. The catch is that the home worker must purchase equipment and materials from the promoter and then depend upon the opinion of the promoter as to the acceptability of the workmanship. In several cases, according to BBBs, promoters have rejected almost all of the efforts of the home workers who invested in the materials, etc., while continuing to advertise extensively for home workers.

The Sneaky Schools

At least two recent Federal Trade Commission complaints and several reports from Better Business Bureaus have alerted the public to schools who advertise as if they were business firms looking for employees. One of these outfits, a heavy construction equipment and truck driver training school, actually used names close to those of reputable construction and truck-transport firms.

Customers who responded to the advertisements were told they needed to pass a "training course" before they could be hired. In one case, a truck driver with 15 years experience and a license was told he needed "training." The trucking firm representative said that the course cost over $200 and that it had to be taken at his school. Needless to say, there were no jobs, just a gimmick to sell worthless courses.

On College Advisory Council

George J. Fantini, Jr. of Andover (right), is congratulated by Bentley College president Gregory H. Adamian on being received into the college's President's Advisory Council. The 100-member council, which helps define the educational needs of society and business to Bentley, serves as a core of support and expertise for the school and as a source of advice for its faculty and trustees. Bentley, the eighth largest private educational institution in the state, is a fully accredited, co-educational college offering graduate and undergraduate programs leading to degrees in business and the liberal arts. Mr. Fantini, who is vice president at the State Street Bank in Boston, accepted his council appointment in recent ceremonies at the Waltham campus.

Standex Earnings Decline

Standex International Corporation (NYSE) announced that fiscal nine-month earnings declined 7 per cent and sales increased 2.5 per cent from the year before.

In the nine months ended March 31, 1975, net income amounted to $4,621,000, or $1.68 per share, down from $4,963,000 or $1.81 per share in the prior year. Sales rose to a record $135 million, up from $131.6 million a year ago.

In the third fiscal quarter ended March 31, earnings declined 32 per cent to $1,117,000, or 40 cents per share, from the prior year's $1,648,000, or 60 cents per share. Sales in the latest quarter declined slightly to $43 million from last year's $43.8 million. The nine-month and third quarter results include non-operating net earnings of approximately $775,000, or 28 cents a share, resulting from the sale of 44,000 shares of the A. T. Cross Company stock and a discount earned from shortening a long-term debt maturity.

Daniel E. Hogan, President, stated that, while most Standex divisions are now feeling the effects of the recession to some extent, the overall corporation continues to operate "in a sound and profitable manner." He cited sagging demand and unfavorable market conditions in consumer goods and the markets for color TV and automotive components. He said that "while we see few definitive signs of a real upturn in the economy, we believe that general economic conditions will begin to improve in the reasonable future and that Standex will resume its past record of growth" in the new fiscal year starting July 1, 1975. Mr. Hogan added that Standex's continuing programs to cut costs significantly and to improve corporate productivity have yielded excellent results. He said that employee count is down 25 per cent from a year ago and that "Standex is lean and well-prepared to weather the current recession and to take immediate advantage of any economic upturn". Corporate productivity and efficiency are at all-time highs.

Local Firm Broadens Operations

New Hampshire Assembly Corporation, located in the former Raytheon Plant in Shawsheen, which in its two-year history as a subcontractor in the electronics and electro-mechanical industries has seen its work force grow from 7 to 64 engineers, technicians, management and manufacturing personnel, has taken steps to broaden its operating base to allow it to take equity positions on a joint venture basis with selected companies.

According to company president Kenneth E. Shank, much of the company's rapid growth can be attributed to the success it has had organizing a fully integrated technology-oriented business that permits its customers to assign its projects that can commence with design development and refinement and carry through the purchasing, manufacture and assembly and even encompass the marketing of highly specialized products.

Among the companies employing its services are such customers as: Nashua Corporation (business products); Savin Business Machine Corp.; International Pammcorp. (spectroscopy equipment); Cyborg Corporation (biofeedback equipment).

Although the company is about to begin the manufacture of proprietary equipment for the audio industry, New Hampshire Assembly Corporation, which just changed its corporate name to NHA, Inc., will continue to emphasize its job contracting work, says Mr. Shank.

In a related move intended to fully capitalize on the solid, highly specialized technology base and manufacturing facility it has established NHA, Inc. has formed Dataplex Inc., a venture-development subsidiary, in order to spawn additional manufacturing volume for the parent company and to provide NHA with the opportunity to participate in venture development when attractive situations arise. James E. Cook, assistant to the president of NHA, Inc., has been appointed president of the new firm.

Messrs Shank and Cook feel that Dataplex can contribute greatly to the success of start-up ventures while dramatically reducing their risks. For one thing, Dataplex can provide in-place, on-call operations that free entrepreneurs to concentrate on other matters. For another, Dataplex, through NHA, Inc., is an experienced partner capable of avoiding pitfalls that can overwhelm new firms operating in the specialized field.

They note that venture capital companies will be able to team with Dataplex, relying on its expertise to develop, manufacture and even market a product for which the venture capitalists can at best only provide general guidance and financial support. By joining with Dataplex, less funds are committed to a venture whose chances of success have markedly improved by the inclusion of Dataplex technological, manufacturing and sales support.

Much of Dataplex's business will also stem from start-up ventures seeking manufacturing, marketing and some direct financial support from Dataplex. This it is prepared to do, depending on the situation, ranging from use of NHA lines of credit, volume purchasing discounts, receivables financing to outright financing.

The free admission policy for all visitors Sundays, 10 to 1, continues at the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston, so families can enjoy the Museum together at no cost. Senior citizens are admitted free all day Friday.

108 DASCOMB ROAD ANDOVER, MASSACHUSETTS 01810 (617) 475-4011

Scientists at the Berlin Technical University have built a mechanical fin, based on the fin motion of a dolphin, for boat propulsion, which is more efficient than the conventional screw propeller, Massachusetts Audubon says. The fin is a rod and paddle mounted between powerful springs that keep it swinging back and forth with engine power added:

A desert shrub, the jojoba, grows seeds that contain oil which is chemically similar to that of the sperm whale. Both are liquid wax esters, and they remain stable under high pressure and heat, Massachusetts Audubon tells us. One acre could yield one to two thousand pounds of oil, and after the oil is pressed out, a high protein meal remains.

Selectmen

zaro, who operates Plaza West Beverages, also located in the plaza area, and an applicant for the full package store license, appealed the decision to the Alcoholic Beverages Control Commission. The state agency remanded the decision back to the selectmen for a rehearing which is scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

Also scheduled for discussion Monday is the relocating of a portion of River Road to conform to the entrance and exits for the new Hewlett-Packard plant in West Andover.

This is a routine matter, and has been before local officials previously. It involves sections of the old and new sections of River Road.

The board is expected to again discuss items for the October town meeting warrant Monday night. Warrant for the session opens Monday and closes on Friday at 4 p.m.

Among the items to be discussed are the $3.5 million bond issue for improvements to the water distribution system.

This item is a result of studies made by Town Manager J. Maynard Austin and Public Works Director Robert McQuade after the selectmen vetoed the annual $200,000 expenditure for improvement at the annual town meeting.

In the spring the selectmen decided to postpone the annual water improvement program in deference to making a study of what it would take to implement the entire first phase of the master plan for water department betterment.

The plan includes enclosing of the Prospect Hill reservoir and also completing the installation of larger mains in main loops in various sections of the community.

There is also a possibility that the selectmen will discuss the matter of revaluation with the assessors.

The people of the poorer countries are in competition for food with the livestock of the richer countries, Massachusetts Audubon points out.

Giving A Supervisory Glance

John M. Lynch, right, newly appointed highway department superintendent checks over the sweeper as it is prepared for a tour of the town streets by William Douty. Lynch was appointed to succeed the late Stanley Chlebowski. He had been a member of the public works department for many years and general foreman of the highway department for over 20 years.

Septic System

McDowell said the septic system installation has been a major problem for the health board for the past few years, and that the effort put into adoption of the new regulations was the result of serious concern by not only the health board, but the building department and other town officials as well.

Basic to the protection of the homeowner is the halting of problems before the system is installed and buried in the ground. Once a system is placed underground, and problems with it arise, it is often difficult to get to the source.

Through the new regulations, proper installation will be inspected and approved before the system is covered, all connection between the house and the underground system outside, will be examined and the new property owner assured of proper installation and having paid only once for the work.

The new regulations are published on Pages 28, 29 and 30 of today's TOWNSMAN.

TOWN OF ANDOVER DOGS

1975 Dog Licenses were due April 1, 1975. Every dog who is three months old or older is required by law to be licensed. Recent passage of a Town By-law can result in a $25.00 fine to the owner of an unlicensed dog.

Register your dog NOW and save yourself and your canine friend the embarrassment of being penalized for not having his or her dog license.

Dog licenses are now being sold at the Town Clerk's office from 8:30 until 4:30, Monday through Friday.

MALE: $3.00 SPAYED FEMALE: $3.00***
UNSPAYED FEMALE: $6.00

*A spayed certificate is required if a spayed female dog is being registered in Andover for the first time.
